THE TARIFF AND WOMAN SUFFRAGE LOCAL MATTERS.

Chicago, July 6.—[Special.]—In the anti-monopoly ... last convention yesterday, pending action on the in... sertion of a woman's suffrage plank in the platform, ... Mrs. Todd, of California, made by far the wittiest ... and most entertaining talk thus far listened to, and ... took her seat amidst a storm of applause, saying in ... regard to the anti-suffrage men, "with all their ... faults I love them still." Nevertheless the conven... tion decided to refer the matter to the various states. ... Touching this and the wide divergence between the ... eastern and western delegations on the tariff, Mrs. ... Mills, of Chicago, introduced the following which ... was adopted:

Resolved, That while this conference is prepared to declare that the east should have protection and the west free trade, we believe with Hancock that the tariff is a local matter, and like woman suffrage, should be relegated to the legislatures of different states.

The Adulterated Lard Investigation.

Chicago, July 6.—In the lard investigation before the board of trade committee, in which McGeoch charges Fowler Bros. with adulteration of prime steam lard, defense concluded this afternoon, with the testimony of Prof. Hedfield, of the Rush medical college, who exhibited a series of magnified photographs of lard and tallow, showing the difference in the crystallized, together with specimens of adulterated lard. Prosecution then put on the stand Wm. Martin, foreman for Fowler Bros., who corroborated the statements made by other witnesses, to the effect that tallow and beef bones were mixed with hog fat and put into the rendering tanks, and the product put in tierces and labelled "Prime Steam." He knew positively, because he had entire charge of the rendering, that in December last between 5000 and 6000 tierces of this stuff was made by Fowler Bros., and tierced as prime steam lard. This evidence contradicts that given by Professor Rose, chemist for Fowler Bros.

Yellow Fever.

New Orleans, June 6.—Times-Democrat Mobile special: Last night news came that the bark Vega, from Vera Cruz, was anchored fifteen miles off Mobile bay, with Captain Hansen, the mate and all the crew but four down with yellow fever. The bark was ordered to Ship island in quarantine.

Galveston, Tex., July 6.—The man reported yesterday as ill on board the bark Salome, from Vera Cruz, has since died of black vomit. Another sailor on the same vessel, sick undoubtedly from yellow fever, is expected to die to-night. The Salome is thoroughly isolated from the rest of the shipping here. It is thought the governor will take action and have her sent to Ship island. In addition to the state quarantine the city has established a packet boat to patrol the water in the neighborhood of the quarantined vessel. A cordon also has been established across the east of Ship island.

The New Hampshire Squabble.

Washington, July 6.—[Special.]—A gentleman who has just came from Concord says Senator Rollins has no chance for re-election since the caucus was held, but no indications are yet afforded of what the result will be. The candidates have about equal chances so far as can be learned. Secretary Chandler has no chance. He is going to Concord to-morrow.

Concord, N. H., July 6.—It is reported that the anti-Rollins men have been in secret conference this afternoon with a view of agreeing upon a candidate to support for senator next week. It is stated that they were unable to agree, and another meeting will be held Tuesday evening.

Rescued in Mid-Ocean.

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—The Italian bark Samuele, which arrived here from Palamo, brought thirteen men who were found drifting in mid-ocean in an open boat, to which they had clung without food or water for two days. The men were the crew of the Italian bark Umberto Gallato, which foundered June 19, while bound from Alicante, Spain, for this port. They had no nourishment, and burned their clothes as a signal of distress. They were found naked, lying in the bottom of the boat unconscious.

Lotta's Husband.

Chicago, July 6.—[Special.]—Special from Washington: The Critic will publish an interview with a lady friend of Lotta and Mr. Huss. She says they were positively married; that Huss has told her and other intimate friends so; that Lotta is now on her way to Europe, and will be followed by Huss August 1st; that the arrival and departure of Lotta and the preacher were timed, so as to prevent the public from "catching on;" that Huss has only to prove his identity to inherit a large legacy.

Failures for the Week.

New York, July 6.—Business failures throughout the country the past seven days, as reported by R. G. Dun & Co.'s mercantile agency, number 130, which is considerably below the average of the past ten weeks. There have been few important failures anywhere, and none in New York city to specially note. They are divided into sections as follows: New England states 10, western 50, middle 18, southern 24, Pacific states and territories 13, New York city 7 and Canada 16.

High License in Missouri.

St. Louis, July 6.—The house of delegates tonight passed an ordinance which was previously adopted by the council, establishing high license for dram shops in conformity with the state law passed by the legislature last winter. It was expected the license on beer and wine saloons would be made uniform with those for dram shops, but it was finally concluded to let them remain as heretofore, which is only about a quarter as high as for dram shops.

Suit for a Human Skin.

Boston, July 6.—[Special.]—Donaldson, Donovan & Co., a well known boot and shoe firm of Boston, loaned Governor Butler a human skin, which had been tanned, and the governor made a great flourish over it at the Tewksbury investigation. Donaldson says he was making a pair of shoes from it for a museum in Rome and valued the skin at $1500, and has now begun legal proceedings to secure it.

Efforts to Oust a President.

Chicago, July 6.—[Special.]—Times special: Determined efforts are being made in Arkansas to drive General D. H. Hill from the presidency of the Industrial university, which he has held for three years at $6000 per annum. He is spending the summer in California. It is claimed the university is steadily declining in influence and attendance.

An Unusual Failure.

Chicago, July 6.—[Special.]—Abraham Goldsmith, a veteran pawnbroker, was closed out under an execution to-day. This is something unusual in this line of business.

ACCIDENTS.

SIX NEGROES DROWNED.

Raleigh, N. C., July 6.—[Special.]—At Worthams Bridge, Columbus county, near Whiteville, six negroes—four men and two women—were drowned yesterday. They made a raft of logs and grape vines and attempted to cross a wide and deep stream. When the middle of the river was reached the raft went to pieces. The two women sank immediately, while two of the men struggled, being unable to swim. The two others swam ashore, but seeing the helplessness of their comrades, went to the rescue, and were seized by the drowning men and lost their lives also.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Scranton, Pa., July 6.—At Dickson City, a short distance from this city, Elias Roberts' house was struck by lightning, badly shattering and prostrating Roberts and two children, and taking a shoe from Roberts' little daughter's foot. Roberts was unconscious two hours. His watch was ground to fine powder. A spire on a coal breaker was knocked off, and several houses were struck. Many trees were shattered along the river.

INCREASED DEATH RATE.

New York, July 6.—The hot wave increased the death rate. July 4 the number of deaths was 150; on the 5th it was 139, and up to noon to-day, 206. A large proportion of the victims were children under 6 years, in crowded tenement districts.

COOKED TO DEATH.

Chicago, July 6.—This afternoon, while two men were engaged in cleaning a boiler at the works of the North Chicago Rolling Mill company, a valve broke, letting the steam on them, and they were cooked to death.

Steamer Rumors Revived.

San Francisco, July 6.—[Special.]—The departure of the steamer Newbern, to-day, for Mexican ports, as a substitute for the steamer Mexico, has revived the report that the latter will shortly be placed on the Sound route. The reasons formerly assigned in The Oregonian for this change of route still hold good and were strengthened this afternoon by the statement of the agent of the California and Mexican Steamship Company, that arrangements are being made to run a vessel north. The Newbern sailed in command of the first officer of the Mexico, while Captain Huntington of the latter has been kept in port as her master, instead of being put out into stream until such time as Mexican trade grows better and which does not give much promise. As the Newbern is a much smaller vessel she went off with half cargo. The Mexico has been brought up to the dock to be cleaned.

A Woman Fatally Stabbed.

[Special.]—A cutting affray occurred this evening, in which a woman named Mrs. Fellows received fatal injuries at the hands of John Hennessy, a retired soldier. It appears that Hennessy, who has been drinking heavily of late, made improper remarks concerning the woman, and was threatened with punishment by her husband. The men met a few days ago and the result was a fight, in which Fellows was worsted. Since then Hennessy carried a razor with him, and this evening walked into Fellows' house, and seeing the woman, cut her with the razor, making a deep gash extending from the right jaw to the left side of the neck, and severing the jugular vein.

Death of a Comedian.

Intelligence has been received in this city of the death in Brisbane, Queensland, last May, of Thomas Caswell, the well-known comedian and tenor. Caswell was a native of England, and although not 30 years of age, had achieved a reputation in the profession. He was first known here as a singer at the Tivoli and Winter Gardens. He went to Australia, where he joined forces with Emilie Melville, and made a successful season. He died from consumption.

Not Kicked to Death.

[Special.]—The inquest held on the body of Rob Hart, whose death is attributed to a kicking administered by Thomas Fogarty on the Fourth, reveals the cause of his death to have been from a lack of blood in the brain, which substantiates the claim of Fogarty that he did not kick deceased.

Shot and Instantly Killed.

Bodie, July 6.—At an early hour this morning John Kehoe was shot and instantly killed, and Tom Desmond, late of Virginia City, seriously wounded, in a quarrel regarding a fireman's race on the Fourth, Kehoe called Desmond to the front of a saloon, when the firing was commenced upon Desmond by Kehoe. The latter received eight wounds. It is surmised that some one besides Desmond fired. Desmond received two wounds—one in the arm and one in the fleshy part of the abdomen. He will recover. A coroner's inquest is in progress tonight. Kehoe was constable, and formerly chief of the fire department.

AN ACTORS' RUMPUS.

The Grovers, Pere and Fils, Attempt to Smite One of their Company.

San Francisco, July 6.—[Special.]—The sailing of the steamer Elder for Victoria and Sound ports this afternoon was attended with considerable excitement, in which the Len. Grover Comedy Company figured prominently. The company, numbering sixteen people, engaged to appear in plays written by the manager, had been provided with tickets, including George Osborne and wife, who were to take leading parts. A dispute between Osborne and Len. Grover arose, just before the sailing of the steamer, as to the disposition of the latter. The former insisted that as his wife was subject to seasickness he should be allowed a stateroom with her, to which proposition the manager violently demurred, assigning as a reason that the ladies were placed in the same rooms, the others being reserved for the sterner sex. Osborne refused to be reconciled, and made his departure for the north conditional upon the manager acceding to his demands. He was told to exercise the alternative, and he thereupon rushed up the plank, bringing his wife and traps on shore. Making his way to the baggage master he secured his trunks, and delivered up the parts which himself and wife were to have studied.

THE ASSAULT.

While both were watching the crowd on the steamer, Len. Grover, jr., stepped up, closely followed by the governor, and after an exchange of compliments, he dealt Osborne a blow in the face with his fist, while the wrathful governor attempted to belabor him with his cane. Meanwhile Mrs. Osborne raised the cry, "Cowards! You are two to one!" A crowd closed in upon the histrionic belligerents, while an intelligent police officer seized Osborne, and endeavored to convince him that he was the aggressor. When the order was given by the captain to draw the plank, young Grover ran aboard with a bleeding coat, and evidently the worse for his encounter. Osborne applied for a warrant for his arrest, but the steamer sailed before it could be served.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Further Riddance of Roughs.

Astoria, July 6.—[Special.]—The citizen's committee continue the work of purging the city. This morning the following unwelcome visitors, many of whom had failed to respond affirmatively to the notification of the committee, were escorted to the steamer and informed in a most emphatic manner that the climate of Astoria would not be a healthy one for them if they returned. Their names are: John Simpson, Wm. Murphy, Charles Lewis, E. J. Frazer, Charles Cook, M. E. Green, John Kelly, James Kelly, James Forest, John Jones, William Johnson alias Buck Finan, Fred. Richardson, George Savage, Jack Sullivan and George Blye. Some of the above, I am informed, were taken by the committee to a remote spot and soundly flogged before their departure, their refusal to obey the notice to quit by the committee having been attended with aggravating circumstances. The committee meet in deliberation again this evening, and it is said will make some disposition of nine or ten other equally worthless characters who prey on society; men who never do an honest day's work, who live off of the poor unfortunate prostitutes and who lay in wait to rob and swindle every hard working man who comes into their clutches out of the reward of his honest labor.

The Continued Warm Weather.

Astoria, July 6.—[Special.]—The weather is sultry and hot for Astoria. If it were not for the never failing sea breeze, which clears the atmosphere of the heavy smoke arising from fires in the woods above, it would be almost unbearable. But few can remember so long a period as we are now experiencing without rain.

Tragedy Near Lake View.

Lake View, July 6.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Wm. Cloud's residence, twenty miles south of here, was the scene of a tragedy which resulted in the death of Charles Goodman, by the hands of Benjamin Cloud, Goodman's brother-in-law. Goodman, who had separated from his wife, had threatened the lives of her people, and was in the act of drawing a pistol when he was shot. One shot passed through the hips and the other through the neck, from the effects of which he died this morning. Cloud surrendered to a justice and was discharged.

Flouring Mill Burned.

Dallas, July 6.—[Special.]—At 5 o'clock this morning the Dallas flouring mills, belonging to Messrs. Holman & Wilson, was burned to the ground. Loss, from about $7000 to $8000; insurance, $3000.

MONTANA.

Troops Defeated by Crees.

Helena, July 6.—[Special.]—News received from the north that the troops under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Ilges, sent on a scout to drive back the British Crees, met the enemy in large force this side of the line Thursday and suffered defeat. The report says a courier was sent in hot haste to Fort Assinaboine for reinforcements. The story is doubted here.

Later, July 6.—A Helena dispatch says that the report of Ilges' engagement is sensational. We are reliably informed that Ilges' command has not [illegible] the Indians.

[illegible] July 6.—[Special.]—The special from Helena, which reported the defeat of Lieutenant Colonel Ilges by British Crees, is false. Fortunately none were seriously injured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

IDAHO.

News Notes from Lewiston.

Lewiston, July 6.—[Special.]—Your correspondent has just visited Palouse. The fall sown grain looks exceedingly well. Barley is fully an average. The flax is blossoming finely, and timothy will go four tons per acre. In the whole township the spring sown wheat is thin and drying up, and the crop will be less than average. Altogether this is no year to brag about.

The largest crowd assembled at Palouse City July 4, that ever gathered north of Snake river.

Moscow citizens selected a site for a railroad depot and grain elevator, July 4. It is rumored that the company seeks a subsidy before building the railroad into Moscow.

A FREE FIGHT.

Many Men Wounded in a Disgraceful Row Near Baltimore.

Chicago, July 6.—[Special.]—A Baltimore special gives an account of a lively battle at Cross Keys, a notorious sporting place near that city. The trouble grew out of a cock fight and before the trouble ended a number of the sportsmen presented as pitiable an appearance as their game birds. For a long time the owners of two birds had been stubborn rivals for the honor of the pit and each was backed by many friends. The owners were Perry Knight and a prominent local politician. Knight won the main and then six scrub matches were fought. The excitement, aided by beer and the heat, was running high when a quarrel was started between a man from the eighth ward and a resident of Cross Keys about a stakeholder who ran off. Blows were exchanged and in an instant there was heavy fighting all along the line. The crowd moved in front of the tavern and went to work in earnest. For nearly an hour they struck and shot at each other.

A PANIC CREATED.

People residing in the neighborhood were much alarmed and closed their houses. There was a picnic in progress half a mile below and the ladies and children who were taking a walk along the road ran panic-stricken. When the firing began those of the crowd at the tavern who had vehicles rattled away for town. In the row knives, billies, stones and pistols were used indiscriminately. Before the fight was over the road was lined with men with torn clothing, cut heads and black eyes. It is impossible to get at the exact number of wounded. Some were taken away in carriages. Many were not badly wounded, and at least twelve others were cut ... [illegible] ... The most of those badly hurt were from the city and they were [illegible] ... where they put up at [illegible]

ENGLAND.

[illegible]

[illegible] July 6.—[Special.]—The Parnell ... [illegible] ... result from Healy's triumph in Monaghan and ... there is no doubt as to the character of the triumph of the national candidates. The majority over both opponents was on all sides sweeping and overwhelming, and his successes are recognized as the death knell of whiggery and sham home rulism. The effect on Parliament is extraordinary. All politicians feel that Parnell will control seventy or eighty votes after the next general election, and that next year will probably bring English statesmen face to face with the problem "how to the government to be carried on." Evidently the Irish party must be conciliated or suppressed. Suppression would avail nothing, but rather increase the difficulties of government and parliament a thousand fold. Mr. Parnell reviewed the situation in a speech in Monaghan in a few words. The land question is reopened, Gladstone's pacification scheme has failed, and the Parnell programme of land value has taken deep root in Ulster, and will bring the Orangemen and Presbyterians into the national ranks, despite all efforts to keep them separated from their Catholic countrymen.

IN THE COMMONS.

London, July 6.—In the commons this morning Sir Wm. Harcourt said the government would introduce a bill concerning the storage of petroleum, but he had little hope that it would pass during this session.

Lord Fitzmaurice, under foreign secretary, said the government had not been informed that the French flag had been hoisted on New Hebrides Island. It was stated that there was no cholera in either the Egyptian or the English army.

Trevelyan, chief secretary for Ireland, replying to O'Brien, member for Mallow, said he had been informed that out of 1,000 emigrants who had gone to America only two families had been inmates of the workhouse at Belmullet, from which section they came, and they had received money on landing, and were doing well. He was not aware of the grounds on which the United States returned emigrants, but he supposed they thought those returned were not desirable settlers.

The privilege contemplated by Mason's motion was to be granted to women who, by virtue of property qualification, already possess municipal franchise. The motion was seconded by Baron De Worms, conservative member for Greenwich.

London, July 6.—The commons to-night, 130 to 114, rejected the motion made by Hugh Mason, liberal member for Ashton under Lyne, in favor of female suffrage. The motion was supported by Leonard H. Courtney, financial secretary to the treasury, and strongly opposed by Sir Henry James, attorney general.

Gladstone, in the commons, said Count DeLesseps' son came to London because of a personal commission. Another Suez canal was desirable, and he hoped the agreement already reached would lead to a settlement.

Gladstone, Marquis of Hartington, Sir Henry James, Shaw, Lefevre, Holmes and Duff voted against Mason's motion. Bright also voted against it.

OPINIONS OF THE "THUNDERER."

London, July 6.—The Times says the shooting of the American riflemen was excellent. It is believed the international match will be closely contested, but experts anticipate the English team will win on long range.

The Times, on the financial situation, understands that an effort in regard to confederate bonds will not be made without a preliminary understanding with some influential Americans.

NOT THE WORK OF FENIANS.

London, July 6.—A dispatch from Copenhagen says a prisoner named Neilson, who was charged with committing arson here, has confessed that he set fire to the Victoria docks, London, in 1881, with a view of obtaining plunder. The opinion heretofore entertained regarding the origin of the fire was that it was the work of Fenians.

RIOTOUS STRIKERS.

The striking iron workers are ceasing their riotous proceedings, being informed that the police are armed with cutlasses.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS IN THE TRIAL OF JEWS.

London, July 6.—In the trial of Jews at Nyregahazza, Hungary, the prisoners accused of having placed a corpse in the river, with a view of passing it off as Esther Solomsey, whom the prisoners are charged with murdering, declared their confession had been obtained by threats of murder in their prison. One was compelled to drink huge quantities of water, had been stripped, struck, dragged by the hair and shown a gallows. Another was beaten and compelled to gaze at the sun. A number of witnesses testified as to shocking treatment received at the hands of the authorities. Counsel for defense pointed out that the people of Tisza Eslar, where the murder is alleged to have been committed, had been taught it was not wrong to testify falsely against Jews, the interest of the country requiring their conviction.

The president of the court is informed that a bottle has been discovered which contained the confession of a suicide that he drowned his sweetheart in the river Theiss, near Dada. The corpse was brought hence and passed off as that of Esther Solymossi, which does not correspond with that of his sweetheart.

Berlin, June 6.—The Prussian government has ordered precautionary measures against vessels arriving in Prussia from ports in Turkey or the Red sea, the north coast of Africa, eastward of Algiers, the west coast of Africa, or any port where the existence of cholera is suspected, or where epidemic yellow fever prevails. The period of quarantine for vessels from suspected ports is six days.

ANOTHER DUEL FOUGHT.

Senator Sheehan Slightly Wounds Editor Knox—Their Seconds Disagree—Blood Spilled.

[illegible] ... John Armoy Knox of Austin, Texas, one of the editors of the Texas Siftings, ... D. Sheehan, ... of this city, fought a duel ... on steamboat for Rockaway. They ... yesterday afternoon ... was given ... A challenge followed and a meeting was arranged. S. M. Chase acted as second for Knox and ... Stent for Sheehan. Two shots were exchanged. On the second, Knox was slightly wounded in the left arm. Both men left the city for the grounds early this morning. What followed is given in Chase's own words: Knox was placed at one end of the twenty paces and Sheehan at the other; and a perilously close distance it seemed to be, out there in the open air. They faced each other and were told to fire on the word "fire" being given by Stent. A pause followed and Stent said in a low, but distinct voice:

"Gentlemen, are you ready?" (Pause.) "Fire."

Two right arms were raised to a horizontal position, and two distinct reports were heard and two balls went whizzing about ten yards on each side of their respective marks.

KNOX PERFECTLY SATISFIED.

Knox called me to him and said he was perfectly satisfied, and added:

"Chase, for God's sake, finish things up!"

Sheehan, however, on being appealed to, declared he had not taken such an uncomfortable journey for nothing.

"I've come down to shoot someone," he said, "and I won't be satisfied till I have done so."

There was no help for it, and we placed the men in position again, and the word was once more given. Two more reports rang out, and this time Knox dropped his pistol, put his hand up to his left shoulder and said: "I'm shot." Sheehan declared he was satisfied, and then the doctors bandaged his arm, which had been grazed in the fleshy part above the elbow. We got into the boat again and rowed across to a hotel and had dinner, dining at separate tables. Knox's arm was painful, but he managed to use it tolerably well. We then took the evening train and got back to the city at 7 o'clock.

THE DUEL A MATTER OF DOUBT.

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—The Times discredits Chase's account of the duel, and says his manner while making the statement, was that of an advertising agent who really believed what he was saying. Although his visitors guyed him somewhat, he persisted in declaring there was a duel, just as he had minutely described it. But the Times thinks there was no blood shed. At any rate, it adds, a veracious reporter discovered Editor Knox in an out of the way place in the evening. He was engaged in preparations for a hasty departure. "We've had it out," he said, smilingly. "We met this morning, somewhere in Jersey, where exactly I shall not, for obvious reasons, communicate, and burned a considerable amount of ammunition. At the last round Sheehan came so near hitting me that I shudder when I think of it. At this point my adversary concluded that the bloody work had proceeded far enough, and after a little parleying between the seconds, an amicable settlement was reached, and the great sculptor and myself mingled our tears in a renewal of our friendship."

The whole affair is treated in the morning papers as an advertising sensation. Both are Southern men by adoption. Sheehan served in Lee's army.

REPORTED TO BE A HOAX.

New York, July 6.—It is reported this morning that the duel alleged to have been fought between John Armoy Knox and D. B. Sheehan yesterday, which resulted in the wounding of Knox, is a hoax and that the principals never left the city. Many are of the opinion that the whole thing is a practical joke, originated by Knox, in his own interest, and it is certain that he had no intention of fighting. Neither of the men have shown themselves since the first reported breach between them, and nothing definite is known in regard to their movements.

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—It is now believed that the duel was a hoax, and was a scheme devised by Knox to advertise his paper and book, and dupe the sensation mongering reporters. Some of the latter posted down to Rockaway beach to inspect the spot where the alleged duel was fought, while the duelists were all the time in the neighborhood of the McDermott house, Jersey City.

THE EDMUNDS' LAW.

What the Chairman of the Utah Commission has to Say of its Enforcement.

St. Paul, July 6.—Governor Ramsey, head of the commission who has just returned from Salt Lake, said to a Tribune correspondent to-day, in speaking of the work of the commission: "The election to be held August 6th is really the whole matter. The elect on last November of a delegate to congress did not touch the hearts of the people, nor especially awaken their interest. But the August polling is for members of the legislature, probate judges, sheriffs, etc., officers which come directly home to local interests. Section nine of the Edmunds' bill, as you will see by reading it, defines the duties of the commission of which I am chairman, and in two places by its wording, evidently contemplates legislative enactments which, if passed and carried into effect, would render the commission needless. The question is, will the legislature pass such laws? Will they prohibit polygamists from voting, and from sitting upon juries in cases where the polygamy question in any way is at issue? In short, will they enforce the same regulations against polygamy that the commission are intrusted with carrying? But that the future will have to decide. When it comes to the construction of the law as to what constituted polygamous person the commission were compelled to give the language its broadest ... and regard as polygamists, and consequently ineligible for registration and franchise, all who ever practiced polygamy at all—every one who lived and cohabited with more than one and ... woman as his wife."

AN ESSENTIAL CONSTRUCTION.

... construction had not been put upon the ... when the date for registration arrived ... would have put away all but one wife, ... with the claim of monogamy. When ... had received returns from all the polling ... and appointed judges, three to each precinct, ... twenty-four counties, or between 600 or ... The next legislature must be elected by ... monogamists, and none of its members can, under ... law, be polygamists, under the above construction of the meaning of the word in the Edmunds bill. We have personally been treated very ... by the Gentiles and Mormons, though of ... we are the subject of much criticism by the ... who claiming that the law was an infringement upon their territorial and personal rights, and that we have not enforced the law properly and the extremists of the former averring that the law was of no use—not stringent enough. Moderate men say, "Have patience, and let the territory have a chance, by its legislature, to enact needed laws. If you don't, the Mormons will have a real grievance to lay before the liberal minds of the country." I do not wish to be quoted as giving an opinion in the matter; I merely say that the August election is an important one.

THE NATIONAL PARK.

Information as to the Best Way of Reaching it—Modern Conveniences.

Chicago, July 6.—Mr. A. D. Edgar, general eastern agent of the Northern Pacific railroad, received a letter yesterday from G. K. Barnes, general passenger agent of this road, informing him that a contract between the National Park Improvement Company and the stage line has been signed, and will go into effect July 15. It is expected that the National Park branch of the Northern Pacific will be completed to a point fifteen miles south of Livingstone on the same date, and by August 15 thirty miles will be finished clear to the northern boundary of the park. In the mean time a stage line will connect at the terminus of the park branch and carry passengers by Concord coaches to the Mammoth hot springs. From this point tourists may take Concord coaches for points preferred in visiting the different places of interest in the park. They will also be supplied with bronchos, saddle horses, etc.

HOTELS AT POINTS OF INTEREST.

The Mammoth Springs hotel will be ready July 15 to receive visitors. There will be no other hotel in the park, but a substantial hotel will be erected at all points of interest and restaurants will be run in connection therewith. Mr. Barnes advises tourists to go in parties of about five or six persons, as they will be better cared for than if they went in larger numbers. The tourist season will close about September 15, after which date it will be unsafe for parties to enter into the park on account of probable snow storms. Mr. Barnes also states that dining cars are now run on the Pacific express as far as Billings, and in about ten days they will be run to Bozeman, and possibly to Helena. Sleeping cars commenced to run through to Helena yesterday.

DR. C. McLANE'S Celebrated Liver Pills

In offering to the public Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills, as a remedy for Liver and Bilious Complaints, we presume no apology will be needed. The great prevalence of Liver Complaints and Bilious Diseases of all kinds throughout the United States, and particularly in the West and South, where, in the majority of cases, the patient is not within the reach of a regular physician, requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be safe and effectual. That such is the character of Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills, there can be no doubt. The great success which has invariably attended their use, will, we think, be sufficient to convince the most incredulous. It has been our sincere wish that these Pills should be fairly tested, and stand or fall by the effects produced. That they have been so tested and that the result has been in every respect favorable, we call tens of thousands to witness who have experienced their beneficial effects.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS are not held forth or recommended (like most of the popular medicines of the day) as universal cure-alls, but simply as a specific for Liver Complaints, and those symptoms connected with a deranged state of that organ.

THE ONLY GENUINE McLANE'S PILLS, Are the Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills, PREPARED BY FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Anti-Monopoly Convention a Fiasco.

CHICAGO, July 6.—[Special.]—The morning journals denominate the national anti-monopoly convention a fiasco. With nearly 200 delegates the convention dwindled down to about fifty at the close. Denis Kearney claims to have evidence that the affair was engineered largely by what he terms three Washington lobbyists, and that he will show up their character at a meeting next Sunday, when he will also answer an editorial in the Times, which combats his views on the railway question. He contends that in the matter of freight charges, that while collectively they are large, still when taken in the case of an individual purchaser of a suit of clothes, as an illustration, they are merely nominal. Kearney says he goes to New York City from here, where he will address the workingmen in Cooper's Institute, and then go to Ohio. He has engagements which will fill three months time.

THE TARIFF AND WOMAN SUFFRAGE LOCAL MATTERS.

CHICAGO, July 6.—[Special.]—In the anti-monopolist convention yesterday, pending action on the insertion of a woman's suffrage plank in the platform, Mrs. Todd, of California, made by far the wittiest and most entertaining talk thus far listened to, and took her seat amidst a storm of applause, saying in regard to the anti-suffrage men, "with all their faults I love them still." Nevertheless the convention decided to refer the matter to the various States. Touching this and the wide divergence between the eastern and western delegations on the tariff, Mrs. Mills, of Chicago, introduced the following which was adopted:

Resolved, That while this conference is prepared to declare that the east should have protection and the west free trade, we believe with Hancock that the tariff is a local matter, and like woman suffrage, should be relegated to the legislatures of different states.

The Adulterated Lard Investigation.

CHICAGO, July 6.—In the lard investigation before the board of trade committee, in which McGeoch charges Fowler Bros. with adulteration of prime steam lard, defense concluded this afternoon, with the testimony of Prof. Delfield, of the Rush medical college, who exhibited a series of magnified photographs of lard and tallow, showing the difference in the crystalized, together with specimens of adulterated lard. Prosecution then put on the stand Wm. Martin, foreman for Fowler Bros. who corroborated the statements made by other witnesses, to the effect that tallow and beef bones were mixed with hog fat and put into the rendering tanks, and the product put in tierces and labelled "Prime Steam." He knew positively, because he had entire charge of the rendering, that in December last between 5000 and 6000 tierces of this stuff was made by Fowler Bros. and tierced as prime steam lard. This evidence contradicts that given by Professor Rose, chemist for Fowler Bros.

Yellow Fever.

NEW ORLEANS, June 6.—Times-Democrat Mobile special: Last night news came that the bark Vega, from Vera Cruz, was anchored fifteen miles off Mobile bay, with Captain Hansen, the mate and all the crew but four down with yellow fever. The bark was ordered to Ship island in quarantine.

GALVESTON, Tex., July 6.—The man reported yesterday as ill on board the bark Salome, from Vera Cruz, has since died of black vomit. Another sailor on the same vessel, sick undoubtedly from yellow fever, is expected to die to-night. The Salome is thoroughly isolated from the rest of the shipping here. It is thought the governor will take action and have her sent to Ship island. In addition to the state quarantine the city has established a packet boat to patrol the water in the neighborhood of the quarantined vessel. A cordon also has been established across the east of Ship island.

The New Hampshire Squabble.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—[Special.]—A gentleman who has just come from Concord says Senator Rollins has no chance for re-election since the caucus was held, but no indications are yet afforded of what the result will be. The candidates have about equal chances so far as can be learned. Secretary Chandler has no chance. He is going to Concord to-morrow.

CONCORD, N. H., July 6.—It is reported that the anti-Rollins men have been in secret conference this afternoon with a view of agreeing upon a candidate to support for senator next week. It is stated that they were unable to agree, and another meeting will be held Tuesday evening.

Rescued in Mid-Ocean.

NEW YORK, July 6.—[Special.]—The Italian bark Samuele, which arrived here from Palamo, brought thirteen men who were found drifting in mid-ocean in an open boat, to which they had clung without food or water for two days. The men were the crew of the Italian bark Umberto Galiato, which foundered June 19, while bound from Alicante, Spain, for this port. They had no nourishment, and burned their clothes as a signal of distress. They were found naked, lying in the bottom of the boat unconscious.

Lotta's Husband.

CHICAGO, July 6.—[Special.]—Special from Washington: The Critic will publish an interview with a lady friend of Lotta and Mr. Huss. She says they were positively married; that Huss has told her and other intimate friends so; that Lotta is now on her way to Europe, and will be followed by Huss August 1st; that the arrival and departure of Lotta and the preacher were timed, so as to prevent the public from "catching on;" that Huss has only to prove his identity to inherit a large legacy.

Failures for the Week.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Business failures throughout the country the past seven days, as reported by R. G. Dun & Co.'s mercantile agency, number 130, which is considerably below the average of the past ten weeks. There have been few important failures anywhere, and none in New York city especially note. They are divided into sections as follows: New England states 10, western 50, middle 18, southern 24, Pacific states and territories 13, New York city 7 and Canada 16.

High License in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—The house of delegates to-night passed an ordinance which was previously adopted by the council, establishing high license for dram shops in conformity with the state law passed by the legislature last winter. It was expected the license on beer and wine saloons would be made uniform with those for dram shops, but it was finally concluded to let them remain as heretofore, which is only about a quarter as high as for dram shops.

Suit for a Human Skin.

BOSTON, July 6.—[Special.]—Ferguson, Donovan & Co., a well known boot and shoe firm of Boston, loaned Governor Butler a human skin, which had been tanned, and the governor made a great flourish over it at the Tewksbury investigation. Donaldson says he was making a pair of shoes from it for a museum in Rome and valued the skin at $1500, and has now begun legal proceedings to secure it.

Efforts to Oust a President.

CHICAGO, July 6.—[Special.]—Times special: Determined efforts are being made in Arkansas to drive General D. H. Hill from the presidency of the Industrial university, which he has held for three years at $6000 per annum. He is spending the summer in California. It is claimed the university is steadily declining in influence and attendance.

An Unusual Failure.

CHICAGO, July 6.—[Special.]—Abraham Goldsmith, a veteran pawnbroker, was closed out under an execution to-day. This is something unusual in this line of business.

ACCIDENTS.

SIX NEGROES DROWNED.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 6.—[Special.]—At Worthington's Bridge, Columbus county, near Whiteville, six negroes—four men and two women—were drowned yesterday. They made a raft of logs and grape vines and attempted to cross a wide and deep stream. When the middle of the river was reached the raft went to pieces. The two women sank immediately, while two of the men struggled, being unable to swim. The two others swam ashore, but seeing the helplessness of their comrades, went to the rescue, and were seized by the drowning men and lost their lives also.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 6.—At Dickson City, a short distance from this city, Elias Roberts' house was struck by lightning, badly shattering and prostrating Roberts and two children, and taking a shoe from Roberts' little daughter's foot. Roberts was unconscious two hours. His watch was ground to fine powder. A spire on a coal breaker was knocked off, and several houses were struck. Many trees were shattered along the river.

INCREASED DEATH RATE.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The hot wave increased the death rate. July 4 the number of deaths was 150; on the 5th it was 139, and up to noon to-day, 205. A large proportion of the victims were children under 5 years, in crowded tenement districts.

COOKED TO DEATH.

CHICAGO, July 6.—This afternoon, while two men were engaged in cleaning a boiler at the works of the North Chicago Rolling Mill company, a valve broke, letting the steam on them, and they were cooked to death.

MORE OF THE EVANSVILLE BLAZE.

EVANSVILLE, Minn., July 6.—The loss by the fire is found much greater than at first estimated. The fire broke out yesterday at 11 A. M. in the Bank of Evansville, a frame structure. Fire apparatus was not obtainable, and in all seven buildings were burned. Loss, $100,000. The postoffice building was among the burned. The mails were saved. The citizens of Alexandria ran an engine down from Alexandria, and with the assistance of their engine a lumber yard and a ... store were saved. Insurance is thought to be not more than $50,000. Steamer Rumors Revived.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—[Special.]—The departure of the steamer Newbern, to-day, for Mexican ports, as a substitute for the steamer Mexico, has revived the report that the latter will shortly be placed on the Sound route. The reasons formerly assigned in THE OREGONIAN for this change of route still hold good and were strengthened this afternoon by the statement of the agent of the California and Mexican Steamship Company, that arrangements are being made to run a vessel north. The Newbern sailed in command of the first officer of the Mexico, while Captain Huntington of the latter has been kept in port as her master, instead of being run out into stream until such time as Mexican trade grows better and which does not give much promise. As the Newborn is a much smaller vessel she went off with half cargo. The Mexico has been brought up to the dock to be cleaned.

A Woman Fatally Stabbed.

[Special.]—A cutting affray occurred this evening, in which a woman named Mrs. Fellows received fatal injuries at the hands of John Hennessy, a retired soldier. It appears, that Hennessy, who has been drinking heavily of late, made improper remarks concerning the woman, and was threatened with punishment by her husband. The men met a few days ago and the result was a fight, in which Fellows was worsted. Since then Hennessy carried a razor with him, and this evening walked into Fellows' house, and seeing the woman, cut her with the razor, making a deep gash extending from the right jaw to the left side of the neck, and severing the jugular vein.

Death of a Comedian.

Intelligence has been received in this city of the death in Brisbane, Queensland, last May, of Thomas Casell, the well-known comedian and tenor. Casell was a native of England, and although not 30 years of age, had achieved a reputation in the profession. He was first known here as a singer at the Tivoli and Winter Gardens. He went to Australia, where he joined forces with Emilie Melville, and made a successful season. He died from consumption.

Not Kicked to Death.

[Special.]—The inquest held on the body of Rob Hart, whose death is attributed to a kicking administered by Thomas Fogarty on the Fourth, reveals the cause of his death to have been from a lack of blood in the brain, which substantiates the claim of Fogarty that he did not kick deceased.

Shipping Intelligence.

Clearances, July 6.—Steamer George W. Elder, Hayward, Victoria and Port Townsend, Goodall, Perkins & Co.; ship Valley Forge, Love, Port Townsend, G. L. Dingley; bark California, Bühr, Port Townsend, N. Richards. Departures—Steamer George W. Elder, Hayward, Victoria, etc.

PATENTS GRANTED TO OREGONIANS.

[Special.]—The following patents have been granted to Oregonians: B. Forstner, Salem, spoon boring bit; F. O. Hutchinson, Salem, hydraulic jack; D. J. Coleman, Walla Walla, W. T., buckle; H. L. G. Wheeler, Oregon City, force pump.

Shot and Instantly Killed.

BOISE, July 6.—At an early hour this morning John Kehoe was shot and instantly killed, and Tom Desmond, late of Virginia City, seriously wounded. In a quarrel regarding a fireman's race on the Fourth, Kehoe called Desmond to the front of a saloon, when the firing was commenced upon Desmond by Kehoe. The latter received eight wounds. It is surmised that some one besides Desmond fired. Desmond received two wounds—one in the arm and one in the fleshy part of the abdomen. He will recover. A coroner's inquest is in progress tonight. Kehoe was constable, and formerly chief of the fire department.

AN ACTORS' RUMPUS.

The Grovers, Pere and Fils, Attempt to Smite One of their Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—[Special.]—The sailing of the steamer Elder for Victoria and Sound ports this afternoon was attended with considerable excitement, in which the Leo. Grover Comedy Company figured prominently. The company, numbering sixteen people, engaged to appear in plays written by the manager, had been provided with tickets, including George Osborne and wife, who were to take leading parts. A dispute between Osborne and Leo. Grover arose, just before the sailing of the steamer, as to the disposition made of the ladies. The former insisted that as his wife was subject to seasickness he should be allowed a stateroom with her; to which proposition the manager violently demurred, assigning as a reason that the ladies were placed in the same rooms, the others being reserved for the sterner sex. Osborne refused to be reconciled, and made his departure for the north conditional upon the manager acceding to his demands. He was told to exercise the alternative, and he thereupon rushed up the plank bringing his wife and traps on shore. Making his way to the baggage master he secured his trunks, and delivered up the parts which himself and wife were to have studied.

THE ASSAULT.

While both were watching the crowd on the steamer, Leo. Grover, fils, stepped up, closely followed by the governor, and after an exchange of compliments, he dealt Osborne a blow in the face with his fist, while the wrathful governor attempted to belabor him with his cane. Meanwhile Mrs. Osborne raised the cry, "Cowards! You are two to one!" A crowd closed in upon the histrionic belligerents, while an intelligent police officer seized Osborne, and endeavored to convince him that he was the aggressor. When the order was given by the captain to draw the plank young Grover ran aboard with a bis-eted coat, and evidently the worse for his encounter. Osborne applied for a warrant for his arrest, but the steamer sailed before it could be served.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Further Riddance of Roughs.

ASTORIA, July 6.—[Special.]—The citizen's committee continue the work of purging the city. This morning the following unwelcome visitors, many of whom had failed to respond affirmatively to the notification of the committee, were escorted to the steamer and informed in a most emphatic manner that the climate of Astoria would not be a healthy one for them if they returned. Their names are, John Simpson, Wm. Murphy, Charles Lewis, H. J. Frazer, Charles Cook, M. E. Green, John Kelly, James Kelly, James Forest, John Jones, William Johnson alias Buck Flinn, Fred Richardson, George Savage, Jack Sullivan and George Bive. Some of the above, I am informed, were taken by the committee to a remote spot and soundly flogged before their departure, their refusal to obey the notice to quit by the committee having been attended with aggravating circumstances. The committee meet in deliberation again this evening, and it is said will make some disposition of nine or ten other equally worthless characters who prey on society; men who never do an honest day's work, who live off of the poor unfortunate prostitutes and who lay in wait to rob and swindle every hard workman who comes into their clutches out of the reward of his honest labor.

The Continued Warm Weather.

ASTORIA, July 6.—[Special.]—The weather is sultry and hot for Astoria. If it were not for the never failing sea breeze, which clears the atmosphere of the heavy smoke arising from fires in the woods above, it would be almost unbearable. But few can remember so long a period as we are now experiencing without rain.

Tragedy Near Lake View.

LAKE VIEW, July 6.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning Wm. Claud's residence, twenty miles south of here, was the scene of a tragedy which resulted in the death of Charles Goodman, at the hands of Benjamin Claud, Goodman's brother-in-law. Goodman, who had separated from his wife, had threatened the lives of her people, and was in the act of drawing a pistol when he was shot. One shot passed through the hips and the other through the neck, from the effects of which he died this morning. Claud surrendered to a justice and was discharged.

Flouring Mill Burned.

DALLAS, July 6.—[Special.]—At 5 o'clock this morning the Dallas flouring mills, belonging to Messrs. Holman & Wilson, was burned to the ground. Loss, from about $7000 to $8000; insurance, $4000.

MONTANA.

Troops Defeated by Crees.

HELENA, July 6.—[Special.]—News received from the north that the troops under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Ilges, out on a scout to drive back the British Crees, met the enemy in large force this side of the line Thursday and suffered defeat. The report says a courier was sent in hot haste to Fort Assinniboine for reinforcements. The story is doubted here.

OGDEN, July 6.—A Helena dispatch says that the report of Ilges' engagement is sensational. We are reliably informed that Ilges' command has not met the Indians.

CHICAGO, July 6.—[Special.]—The special from Helena, which reported the defeat of Lieutenant Colonel Ilges by northern Crees, is false. Ilges was notified by Major Sherriff of the Canadian Parine that 150 Crees, under Little Pine, had left their agency and gone south into Montana, probably on a horse-stealing expedition. Ilges immediately took the field with 100 men, two companies of cavalry and two of infantry in summer camp at Sweet Grass hills, near the line, for a reserve. The Indians were found the morning of the 3d by scouts. Shots were exchanged without effect. The scouts then fell back and the Crees fled north, and were followed to the line, where the troops turned back. The report of Ilges' defeat was started by a cattle hunter, who heard the firing and saw the scouts ride hastily back toward the main column. The troops have not yet returned to Assinniboine.

UTAH.

Victims of their Own Folly.

SALT LAKE, July 6.—The bodies of Robert Ritter and William Ayer, drowned in Silver lake on the Fourth, were recovered yesterday. It seems that Ritter and Ayer had taken a young lady named Annie Stephenson out in a boat, with a view to scaring her, he being unable to swim. The boat upset, and while she clung to it they struck out for the shore, and the water being very cold they cramped and drowned, victims of their own folly.

Terrific Powder Explosion at Ogden.

OGDEN, July 6.—The incorporating building of the Utah Powder Works Company, located at Ogden canyon, and completed recently, exploded at 5 P. M. to-day, blowing the building to atoms, and instantly killing a man named Porter and injuring several other workmen. The charred remains of Porter were found with a board driven through his body by the force of the explosion.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Full Particulars of the Fire at Sprague.

SPRAGUE, July 5.—[Special.]—This morning about 2:30 o'clock a fire was discovered in a small building in the rear of the Villard hotel. The fire spread rapidly, and in a few minutes the Villard hotel was a sheet of flame. The firemen worked with a will to stop the progress of the fire, but notwithstanding their efforts the entire block, with the exception of the store of C. Kinnear & Co., was burned to the ground. The fire crossed the street to the passenger depot and the Sprague hotel, which are also a total loss. Following are the principal losers: A. L. Newman & Co., building and stock, $15,000, insured for $7000, companies not known; Dodd, Bird, unfinished building, $2600, no insurance; Brower & Layton, Sprague hotel, partially insured; E. M. Kinnear & Co., Villard house, $9000, insured for $3000 in the Metropole of Paris; Charles Rasch, Sprague beer hall, $1200, insured for $1000 in the New Orleans Fire Insurance Company; P. Connelly, building, $1000, insured for $800 in the London and Northwestern; William Perkins, restaurant, $700, no insurance; William G. Lopke, $250, fully insured in the Watertown Insurance Company. Several guests of the Villard house were more or less injured by burns and in jumping from windows into the street, but none fatally. The locomotive of the up passenger train, while passing the fire, caught the telegraph wire, which had fallen down, tearing the headlight from the engine and throwing several persons to the ground. Fortunately none were seriously injured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

News Notes from Seattle.

SEATTLE, July 6.—[Special.]—The little child of L. S. Rains, shot by its mother accidentally yesterday, is better.

A company with an abundance of capital is being formed here for the purpose of handling a large amount of eastern Washington grain this fall. The company will erect warehouses and expect to load at least twelve or fifteen deep water ships. Arrangements are about perfected for handling 40,000 tons of eastern Washington wheat immediately upon the completion of the Northern Pacific this fall.

Two Indians were killed by the premature discharge of a cannon on the 4th at Whatcom.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company intend at once to proceed with the construction of a rail line along the city front to the northern part of the city, right of way for which was obtained some time since.

News Notes from Lewiston.

LEWISTON, July 6.—[Special.]—Your correspondent has just visited Palouse. The fall sown grain looks exceedingly well. Barley is fully an average. The flax is blossoming finely, and timothy will go four tons per acre. In the whole township the spring sown wheat is thin and drying up, and the crop will be less than average. Altogether this is no year to brag about.

The largest crowd assembled at Palouse City July 4, that ever gathered north of Snake river.

A FREE FIGHT.

Many Men Wounded in a Disgraceful Row Near Baltimore.

CHICAGO, July 6.—[Special.]—A Baltimore special gives an account of a lively battle at Cross Keys, a notorious sporting place near that city. The trouble grew out of a cock fight and before the trouble ended a number of the sportsmen presented as pitiable an appearance as their game birds. For a long time the owners of two birds had been stubborn rivals for the honor of the pit and each was backed by many friends. The owners were Perry Knight and a prominent local politician. Knight won the main and then six scrub matches were fought. The excitement, aided by beer and the heat, was running high when a quarrel was started between a man from the eighth ward and a resident of Cross Keys about a stakeholder who ran off. Blows were exchanged and in an instant there was heavy fighting all along the line. The crowd moved in front of the tavern and went to work in earnest. For nearly an hour they struck and shot at each other.

A PANIC CREATED.

People residing in the neighborhood were much alarmed and closed their houses. There was a picnic in progress half a mile below, and the ladies and children who were taking a walk along the road ran panic-stricken. When the firing began those of the crowd at the tavern who had vehicles rattled away for town. In the row knives, billies, stones and pistols were used indiscriminately. Before the fight was over the road was lined with men with torn clothing, cut heads and black eyes. It is impossible to get at the exact number of wounded. Some were taken away in carriages. Many were shot and badly wounded, and at least twelve others were bruised over the head and eyes. The most of those badly hurt were from the city and they were all from the eighth ward, the fighting democratic ward of Baltimore, where they run up majorities at elections.

ENGLAND.

PARNELL GETTING THE UPPER HAND.

LONDON, July 6.—[Special.]—The Parnell dictatorship is what the St. James Gazette declares would result from Healey's triumph in Monaghan; and there is no doubt as to the character of that triumph of the national candidates. The majority over both opponents was on all sides sweeping and overwhelming, and his successes are recognized as the dead knell of whiggery and sham home ruleism. The effect on Parliament is extraordinary. All politicians feel that Parnell will control seventy or eighty votes after the next general election, and that next year will probably bring English statesmen face to face with the problem "how is the government to be carried on." Evidently the Irish party must be conciliated or suppressed. Suppression would avail nothing, but rather increase the difficulties of government and parliament a thousand fold. Mr. Parnell reviewed the situation in a speech in Monaghan in a few words. The land question is reopened, Gladstone's pacification scheme has failed, and the Parnell programme of land value has taken deep root in Ulster, and will bring the Orangemen and Presbyterians into the national ranks, despite all efforts to keep them separated from their Catholic countrymen.

IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, July 6.—In the commons this morning Sir Wm. Harcourt said the government would introduce a bill concerning the storage of petroleum, but he had little hope that it would pass during this session.

Lord Fitzmaurice, under foreign secretary, said the government had not been informed that the French flag had been hoisted on New Hebrides island. It was stated that there was no cholera in either the Egyptian or the English army.

Trevelyan, chief secretary for Ireland, replying to O'Brien, member for Mallow, said he had been informed that out of 1,000 emigrants who had gone to America only two families had been inmates of the workhouse at Belmullet, from which section they came, and they had received money on landing, and were doing well. He was not aware of the grounds on which the United States returned emigrants, but he supposed they thought those returned were not desirable settlers.

The privilege contemplated by Mason's motion was to be granted to women who, by virtue of property qualification, already possess municipal franchise. The motion was seconded by Baron De Worms, conservative member for Greenwich.

LONDON, July 6.—The commons to-night, 130 to 114, rejected the motion made by Hugh Mason, liberal member for Ashton-under-Lyne, in favor of female suffrage. The motion was supported by Leonard H. Courtney, financial secretary to the treasury, and strongly opposed by Sir Henry James, attorney-general.

Gladstone, in the commons, said Count De Lesseps' son came to London because of a personal commission. Another Suez canal was desirable, and he hoped the agreement already reached would lead to a settlement.

Gladstone, Marquis of Hartington, Sir Henry James, Shaw, Lefevre, Hodges and Duff voted against Mason's motion. Bright also voted against it.

OPINIONS OF THE "THUNDERER."

LONDON, July 6.—The Times says the shooting of the American riflemen was excellent. It is believed the international match will be closely contested, but experts anticipate the English team will win on long range.

The Times, on the financial situation, understands that an effort in regard to confederate bonds will not be made without a preliminary understanding with some influential Americans.

NOT THE WORK OF FENIANS.

LONDON, July 6.—A dispatch from Copenhagen says a prisoner named Neilson, who was charged with committing arson here, has confessed that he set fire to the Victoria docks, London, in 1881, with a view of obtaining plunder. The opinion heretofore entertained regarding the origin of the fire was that it was the work of Fenians.

RIOTOUS STRIKERS.

The striking iron workers are ceasing their riotous proceedings, being informed that the police are armed with cutlasses.

PARIS, July 6.—Count de Chambord yesterday received the last sacraments, retaining perfect calmness throughout the ceremony. VIENNA, July 6.—The secretary of Count de Chambord has conveyed to the Count de Paris thanks of the sick prince for coming to Vienna. HUNGARY.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS IN THE TRIAL OF JEWS.

LONDON, July 6.—In the trial of Jews at Nyregyhaza, Hungary, the prisoners accused of having placed a corpse in the river, with a view of passing it off as Esther Solomisey, whom the prisoners are charged with murdering, declared their confession had been obtained by threats of murder in their prison. One was compelled to drink huge quantities of water, had been stripped, struck, dragged by the hair and shown a gallows. Another was beaten and compelled to gaze at the sun. A number of witnesses testified as to shocking treatment received at the hands of the authorities. Counsel for defense pointed out that the people of Tizza Eslar, where the murder is alleged to have been committed, had been taught it was not wrong to testify falsely against Jews, the interest of the country requiring their conviction.

The president of the court is informed that a bottle has been discovered which contained the confession of a suicide that he drowned his sweetheart in the river Theis, near Dada. The corpse was brought hence and passed off as that of Esther Solymosi, which does not correspond with that of his sweetheart.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES AGAINST CHOLERA.

ALEXANDRIA, July 6.—One death from cholera occurred at Alexandria to-day. Ten deaths from cholera occurred at Samanoud yesterday.

LONDON, July 6.—Latest reports indicate that affairs are slightly worse at Damietta, but improving at Mansurah. The Nile is rising well, which, it is expected, will cut short the epidemic.

ANOTHER DUEL FOUGHT.

Sculptor Sheahan Slightly Wounds Editor Knox—Fiery Southern Blood Spilled.

NEW YORK July 6.—[Special.]—J. Armoy Knox of Austin, Texas, one of the editors of the Texas Siftings, and D. B. Sheahan, sculptor of this city, fought a duel to-day, on an island near Far Rockaway. They quarrelled Tuesday afternoon and the lie was given and returned. A challenge followed and a meeting was arranged. A. M. Chase acted as second for Knox and Fred Stent for Sheahan. Two shots were exchanged. On the second, Knox was slightly wounded in the left arm. Both men left the city for the grounds early this morning. What followed is given in Chase's own words: Knox was placed at one end of the twenty paces and Sheahan at the other and perilously close distance it seemed to be out there in the open air. They faced each other and were told to fire on the word "Fire" being given by Stent. A pause followed and Stent said in a low, but distinct voice:

"Gentlemen, are you ready?" [Pause.] "Fire."

Two right arms were raised to a horizontal position, and two distinct reports were heard and two balls went whizzing about ten yards on each side of their respective marks.

KNOX PERFECTLY SATISFIED.

Knox called me to him and said he was perfectly satisfied, and added:

"Chase, for God's sake, finish things up!"

Sheahan, however, on being appealed to, declared he had not taken such an uncomfortable journey for nothing.

"I've come down to shoot someone," he said, "and I won't be satisfied till I have done so."

There was no help for it, and we placed the men in position again, and the word was once more given. Two more reports rang out, and this time Knox dropped his pistol, put his hand up to his left shoulder and said: "I'm shot." Sheahan declared he was satisfied, and then the doctors bandaged his arm, which had been grazed in the fleshy part above the elbow. We got into the boat again and rowed across to a hotel and had dinner, dining at separate tables. Knox's arm was painful, but he managed to use it tolerably well. We then took the evening train and got back to the city at 7 o'clock.

THE DUEL A MATTER OF DOUBT.

NEW YORK, July 6.—[Special.]—The Times discredits Chase's account of the duel, and says his manner while making the statement was that of an advertising agent who really believed what he was saying. Although his visitors guyed him somewhat he persisted in declaring there was a duel, just as he had minutely described it. But the Times thinks there was no blood shed. At any rate, it adds, a veracious reporter discovered Editor Knox in an out of the way place in the evening. He was engaged in preparations for a hasty departure. "We've fought it out," he said smilingly. "We met this morning, somewhere in Jersey, where exactly I shall not, for obvious reasons, communicate, and burned a considerable amount of ammunition. At the last round Sheahan came so near hitting me that I shudder when I think of it. At this point my adversary concluded that the bloody work had proceeded far enough, and after a little parleying between the seconds, an amicable settlement was reached, and the great sculptor and myself mingled our tears in a renewal of our friendship."

The whole affair is treated in the morning papers as an advertising sensation. Both are southern men by adoption. Sheahan served in Lee's army.

REPORTED TO BE A HOAX.

NEW YORK, July 6.—It is reported this morning that the duel alleged to have been fought between John Armoy Knox and D. B. Sheahan yesterday, which resulted in the wounding of Knox, is a hoax and that the principals never left the city. Many are of the opinion that the whole thing is a practical joke, originated by Knox, in his own interest, and it is certain that he had no intention of fighting. Neither of the men have shown themselves since the first reported breach between them, and nothing definite is known in regard to their movements.

NEW YORK, July 6.—[Special.]—It is now believed that the duel was a hoax, and was a scheme devised by Knox to advertise his paper and book, and dupe the sensation mongering reporters. Some of the latter posted down to Rockaway beach to inspect the spot where the alleged duel was fought, while the duelists were all the time in the neighborhood of the McDermott house, Jersey City.

THE EDMUNDS' LAW.

What the Chairman of the Utah Commission has to Say of Its Enforcement.

ST. PAUL, July 6.—Governor Ramsey, head of the commission who has just returned from Salt Lake, said to a Tribune correspondent to-day, in speaking of the work of the commission: "The election to be held August 6th is really the whole matter. The election last November of a delegate to congress did not touch the hearts of the people, nor especially awaken their interest. But the August polling is for members of the legislature, probate judges, sheriffs, etc., officers which come directly home to local interests. Section nine of the Edmunds' bill, as you will see by reading it, defines the duties of the commission of which I am chairman, and in two places by its wording, evidently contemplates legislative enactments which, if passed and carried into effect, would render the commission needless. The question is, will the legislature pass such laws? Will they prohibit polygamists from voting, and from sitting upon juries in cases where the polygamy question is in any way at issue? In short, will they enforce the same regulations against polygamy that the commission are intrusted with carrying? But that the future will have to decide. When it comes to the construction of the law as to what constituted polygamous person the commission were compelled to give the language its broadest sense, and regard as polygamists, and consequently ineligible for registration and franchise, all who had ever practiced polygamy at all—every one who had lived and cohabited with more than one and undivorced woman as his wife."

AN ESSENTIAL CONSTRUCTION.

If this construction had not been put upon the law, when the date for registration arrived the polygamists would have put away all but one wife, and appeared with the claim of monogamy. When I left we had received returns from all the polling places, and appointed judges, three to each precinct, in all the twenty-four counties, or between 500 or 600 in all. The next legislature must be elected by the monogamists, and none of its members can, under the law, be polygamists, under the above construction of the meaning of the word in the Edmunds bill. We have personally been treated very civilly by the Gentiles and Mormons, though of course we are the subject of much criticism by the latter, they claiming that the law was an infringement upon their territorial and personal rights, and that we have not enforced the law properly, and the extremists of the former averring that the law was of no use—not stringent enough. Moderate men say, "Have patience, and let the territory have a chance, by its legislature, to enact needed laws. If you don't, the Mormons will have a real grievance to lay before the liberal minds of the country." I do not wish to be quoted as giving an opinion in the matter; I merely say that the August election is an important one.

THE NATIONAL PARK.

Information as to the Best Way of Reaching It—Modern Conveniences.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Mr. A. D. Ebbiger, general eastern agent of the Northern Pacific railroad, received a letter yesterday from R. K. Barnes, general passenger agent of this road, informing him that a contract between the National Park Improvement Company and the stage line has been signed, and will go into effect July 15. It is expected that the National Park branch of the Northern Pacific will be completed to a point fifteen miles south of Livingstone on the same date, and by August 14 thirty miles will be finished clear to the northern boundary of the park. In the mean time a stage line will connect at the terminus of the park branch and carry passengers by Concord coaches to the Mammoth hot springs. From this point tourists may take Concord coaches for points preferred in visiting the different places of interest in the park. They will also be supplied with broncos, saddle horses, etc.

HOTELS AT POINTS OF INTEREST.

The Mammoth Springs hotel will be ready July 15 to receive visitors. There will be no other hotel in the park, but a substantial hotel will be erected at all points of interest and restaurants will be run in connection therewith. Mr. Barnes advises tourists to go in parties of about five or six persons, as they will be better cared for than if they went in larger numbers. The tourist season will close about September 10, after which date it will be unsafe for parties to enter into the park on account of probable snow storms. Mr. Barnes also states that dining cars are now run on the Pacific express as far as Billings, and in about ten days they will be run to Bozeman, and possibly to Helena. Sleeping cars commenced to run through to Helena yesterday.

CHICAGO, July 6.—[Special.]—A trial run was made between this city and Milwaukee on the Northwestern road, by a locomotive invented by Henry A. Shaw, of Massachusetts. There was a special train of seven cars with distinguished railroad men on board. Markers were adjusted to record the speed of the train. This showed speed at different times of 58, 61, 64 and 65 miles per hour.

DR. C. McLANE'S

Celebrated Liver Pills

In offering to the public Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills, as a remedy for Liver and Bilious Complaints, we presume no apology will be needed. The great prevalence of Liver Complaint and Bilious Diseases of all kinds throughout the United States, and particularly in the West and South, where, in the majority of cases, the patient is not within the reach of a regular physician, requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be safe and effectual. That such is the character of Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills, there can be no doubt. The great success which has invariably attended their use, will, we think, be sufficient to convince the most incredulous. It has been our sincere wish that these Pills should be fairly tested, and stand or fall by the effects produced. That they have been so tested and that the result has been in every respect favorable, we call tens of thousands to witness who have experienced their beneficial effects.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS

are not held forth or recommended, (like most of the popular medicines of the day), as universal cure-alls, but simply as a specific for Liver Complaints, and those symptoms connected with a deranged state of that organ.

PARTISAN VIEWS OF THE TARIFF

The worst of the tariff discussion is that it is usually conducted with the object of making political capital for one party or against another. Thus it is that almost completely obscures the points at issue and prevents anything like a fair and impartial view of the subject. Conclusions are forced or avoided according to views of their effect upon the fortunes of this or that party. It is a most irrational method of dealing with a subject which is largely scientific in its character. Such method not only misleads, but mystifies more and more.

There is dissatisfaction at this time with the wool market, and this is made in some of our states a basis of contention between political parties. In Ohio it is, next perhaps to the liquor question, the leading "issue." The effect of the tariff act of last winter was to reduce the duty somewhat on certain grades of wool. It is assumed that this reduction of duty is the cause of the decline in price. Hence the republicans of Ohio demand that the old duty be restored, and the democrats assert that "the act of the republican congress reducing the tariff on wool, while at the same time increasing it on woolen goods, already highly protected, was iniquitous legislation discriminating in favor of monopoly and against the agricultural interests of the country." Here is simply a play for partisan advantage. Who can suppose that the real truth about the matter is likely to be evolved from it?

With the assertion that the wool producer is injured and the woolen manufacturer benefited by the change in the tariff act, some proof ought to be presented. If any could be had, but the makers of party platforms do not trouble themselves much about the facts. Their want is a "takin'" campaign cry. If the new tariff discriminates in favor of monopoly then the woolen manufacturers ought to be enjoying a season of great activity and prosperity. But in fact their business as well as that of the wool-grower, is very much depressed. One-third of the woolen mills of New England are now shut down in consequence of the overstocked condition of the market. This it is too that has caused the remarkable fall in the price of wool. The trifling reduction of the duty has affected the market but little, if at all. There is no unusual importation of foreign wool. In fact the returns may be expected to show a decline of importations in consequence of the low state of the market.

A writer who presents the subject on rational instead of partisan grounds, after showing that the annual value of the wool products of the country for the census year 1880 was $41,035,045, and that the value of our exports of domestic woolens during the last fiscal year was only $380,000, says with equal truth and force: "We tax the raw material of this industry in a way that protects nobody. It keeps out foreign wools that we need to mix with our native fleeces and by restricting the variety of fabrics which can be made here, it limits the demand for American wool. It raises the price of the manufactured article, and, in common with the ingenious system of reduplicated duties, of which it is a part, it prevents the competition of American woolens in the markets of the world. For our surplus product we have no outlet and yet for our own consumption we cannot supply the finest kinds of cloth. Hemmed in on every side by the restrictions they have contrived for our own protection, the case of the woolen manufacturers is an excellent illustration of how little import duties can help in the promotion of trade." The market both for wool and woolens is in a condition that illustrates once more the already sufficiently familiar fact that periods of depression will follow periods of activity and speculative prices.

THE YAKIMA RESERVATION

A scheme is proposed in eastern Washington to put the Indians of the Yakima reservation who have become farmers, on the footing of citizens, and after they had been furnished with lands in severalty to throw open what remains of the reservation to general settlement. It is not proposed to take the lands from the Indians without pay, but to sell them to settlers just as government lands are sold, and at the same rates, and to apply the proceeds of their sale to the credit of the Indians "to be available for expenditure under the direction of the commissioner of Indian affairs and the secretary of the interior as they shall deem necessary and proper for the educational and material advancement of the Indians." The Indians it is thought will unanimously favor the plan, as they anxiously desire the freedom and advantages of citizenship, and have no title to the lands which it is proposed to sell. They have not yet been consulted as a body, but a general meeting will soon be held at Fort Simcoe when the plan will be explained to them and an expression asked for. It is far from the purpose of the movers in this scheme to do anything in violation of the promises of the government to the Indians or to rouse their ill will. That a large body of the best land in the country should lie uncultivated and useless is felt to be a public misfortune and a hindrance to the prosperity of the whole Yakima region.

The Yakima Signal, from which we glean details of the proposition, fully endorses it, and furnishes an interesting statement of facts concerning the reservation which, it says, embraces by far the finest body of land in Washington territory. The agricultural part of it averages about twenty miles in width by seventy in length. It is level, fertile and well watered. This vast body of magnificent land is almost destitute of improvement or cultivation, and with the exception of a small part used by Indians is useless. Why should it forever remain in this state of unproductiveness when thousands of deserving homeseekers are pressing in its direction?

The individual rights of the Indians are to be provided for according to the following plan: For each head of a family 160 acres and 40 acres additional for each of his or her children under the age of 21 years, for each unmarried adult 160 acres, to be taken in accordance with legal subdivisions, such tracts to be duly indicated upon the plats in the land office and recorded in a book expressly prepared for that purpose. And further it is provided that the lands so assigned shall be inalienable for the period of twenty years. Sufficient progress has been made by the Indians toward civilization and the habits of industry to enable them to prosper in agricultural pursuits and the opportunity to put the plan of citizenship and land in severalty to a practical test, is considered a fortunate one. From the sale of the unoccupied lands a sufficient sum will be realized to provide the means of stock farming, machinery and to maintain schools until the community can provide for itself in these matters.

A bill directing the changes desired has been drawn up and after being submitted to the Indians for their approval which they will almost certainly give. It will be taken in hand by Delegate Brents who promises active interest in the matter. It will be introduced into congress during the coming session and as there can be no good objection to it it is hoped to get it through. We hope and doubt not that the influence of the Oregon representatives will be cast in its favor.

The success of experiments in the southwest in boring for water will encourage the people of the dry districts of eastern Oregon and Washington. Constant streams of pure water have been secured by deep boring in the highest points in Colorado and in several parts of Arizona. No effort has ever been made we believe to sink artesian wells in our eastern country but when made it will doubtless succeed. The cost of boring is light compared with the great benefits which follow.

THE CROPS

More cheerful reports come from the west side counties south of Washington than from any other section in the Willamette valley. We have it from three sources in Yamhill that fields there are in fair condition and that the wheat yield will be at the very least a three fourths crop for the whole county. Wheat is well up and heads excellently filled are developing. Many farmers, particularly in the south Yamhill region planted oats and barley in their frozen fields instead of resowing wheat, and these grains will make excellent crops. Fields in Polk and Benton counties are reported to be in pretty fair condition—not up to the standard, it is true, but very far from actual failure. It is a notable fact that fields in the western part of these counties and away from the river are in better condition than those which have been best favored in former seasons. It is thought that even without rain, the three counties of Yamhill, Polk and Benton will have three fourths of their usual surplus. From Washington county very bad reports come and the east side counties too, are in a bad way. There seems no doubt that a report published ten days ago that fields in eastern Washington were about to suffer blight, was far away from the truth. Numerous statements from reliable sources and several instances backed by samples of the stalk have been received by us, showing that the prospects for a great grain yield are better than ever before. Even should the worst apprehensions for the east side Willamette valley counties be realized we shall still have a great surplus of wheat for shipment. A dispatch from Astoria yesterday says that a smart rain fell there in the afternoon. It may very reasonably be expected that it will extend over the whole country.

It takes a peculiarly constituted mind to believe that Jews in the empire of Francis Joseph have killed a Christian girl in order to obtain blood for a religious ceremony. The idea that the girl's blood was mixed with the Passover bread is as absurd as is the charge that the girl was murdered in the synagogue, or before a general company of people. Even the insane do not commit homicide in that way, much less do the Jews who are notoriously shrewd, however vindictive they may be. But whatever the guilt of the wretched defendants in this Hungarian trial the fact remains that the Jews are having a cruel time of it, not only in Russia and Hungary, where they are numerous, but also in Switzerland and Germany where they are an insignificant minority. Of course the Jews must stand or fall by their record, but in the very heart of Europe they are required to stand or fall also by the prejudices of public opinion and by popular hatred of the most barefaced type.

A writer in the New York Times points out that the next republican national convention will have 818 delegates, that 410 votes will nominate and that 306 will be cast by the sixteen southern states. The same writer says that Arthur is sure of 306 and if with his patronage at the north he cannot get the other 104 he is not much of a politician. This writer seems to be an Arthur man. Nothing, however is more easy or delusive than these "slashing" methods of calculation. It is not possible for any man to get the whole vote of the southern states in convention. Grant couldn't get it in 1880 when it was organized for him as thoroughly as it could be. And if Arthur could get that vote an effort to get 104 more from the north by the use of "patronage" would fail. Patronage never has controlled a republican national convention though it has often attempted it. It has beaten candidates but never nominated them.

If some enterprising man will secure appliances and go into the business of moving trees in this city he cannot fail to make heavy profits. It takes years and a good number of them, to surround a house with trees, and hundreds of householders would pay liberally for them transplanted already grown in their grounds. There is no great difficulty in moving trees, and it is surprising that no one has gone into the business here. Again, we feel called upon to remind the council that of late it has not caused trees to be planted along the streets as they have been extended. The street superintendent ought to be directed to examine shade trees throughout the city, and where old ones have died to cause others planted in their stead, and it should be directed that maples be planted along all the new and extended streets.

The "glorious fourth," with its parade, its battle, its boat races, its hose' trot, its Caledonian games, its music, its heat and noise and dust is gone. Portland has had a grand time. It has entertained from ten to fifteen thousand visitors and has made its patriotism pay. The visitors dispersed in great numbers yesterday and the soldiers to whose presence much of the success of the celebration is due, have folded their tents and gone home.

Who is there, outside the free whisky association and its supporters and victims, who can object to reasonable taxation of a traffic that fills the poorhouses, asylums, jails and penitentiaries of the country? This is the high license question in a nutshell.

The Montana legislature has enacted a law giving a bounty for bear scalps and the Boston Advertiser refers to it as a premium on baldness.

Trevelyan Outlines England's Pauper Immigrant Policy.

TEN THOUSAND MEN ON A RIOTOUS STRIKE.

Count de Chambord Some Better—A King's Narrow Escape from Death—The Cholera in Egypt—Etc.

ENGLAND.

THE QUESTION OF PAUPER IMMIGRATION.

LONDON, July 5.—In the commons to-night Trevelyan, chief secretary for Ireland, replying to Wm. O'Brien, member from Mallow, as to whether, in view of the action of the emigration commissioners at New York, the deportation of paupers from Ireland to the United States would be stopped, said that in view of the action of the commissioners orders would be given to suspend grants of money in cases where it was supposed that former inmates of workhouses are among those desiring to emigrate. In reply to questions as from what particular fund the money would be taken to defray the expense of carrying back these immigrants and returning them to their respective workhouses from which they had been sent, Trevelyan said it would be premature to speak in that regard. Joseph Cowen, radical member from Castle Tyne, asked whether America would allow immigrants to land if Great Britain allowed them means of sustenance for the present? Trevelyan replied that he believed very few indeed of the state aided emigrants were paupers; but he was still inquiring into the subject. He thought it was not because of a few pounds more or less that emigrants were returned, and if Great Britain could, by any possible means, meet the objections of America, she would adopt such means; but he feared contributions of public money would not meet the objections.

TEN THOUSAND MEN ON A STRIKE.

LONDON, July 5.—Ten thousand iron workers in Staffordshire, who are on a strike, with banners marched to Dudleyport, Upton and Moxley and entered the iron works at those places and quenched the fires in the furnaces, thus stopping work. The force of policemen on hand was powerless to prevent the action of the strikers.

The strikers have stopped work at a number of other furnaces. The mob dwindled as the day wore on, and the police finally dispersed the remnant of the mob and arrested the ringleader. A renewal of the riots is expected.

VESSELS TO BE QUARANTINED.

LONDON, July 5.—Government regulations are about to be issued, providing for the quarantining of vessels from Egypt arriving at British ports with a view to prevent the introduction of cholera.

ONLY AT WIMBLEDON.

LONDON, July 5.—The American riflemen will be allowed to use the screw wind gauge only in the international match at Wimbledon.

DEATH OF THE DUKE OF MARLBOROUGH.

LONDON, July 5.—The duke of Marlborough died to-day, 61 years old. His death was very sudden. He was slightly indisposed yesterday, but dined with his family at the usual hour and retired apparently well. He was found dead on the floor of his room this morning.

SUNDERLAND DISASTER VERDICT.

LONDON, July 5.—The inquest over the Sunderland disaster resulted in a verdict that the children suffocated because the door was partially closed, by whom the evidence is insufficient to show. The conjurer who gave the entertainment was censured on account of the small number of attendants to guard against the disaster.

NEWMARKET RACES.

LONDON, July 4.—The Newmarket was won by Clairvaux's Eastern Empress, Glen Allyn 2d. The Beaufort stakes was won by Gobert's Princess, J. R. Keene's Bolero 2d. Betting before the race was two to one against Bolero.

FRENCH PROPOSAL REJECTED.

LONDON, July 4.—A Shanghai dispatch says the Chinese commander has definitely rejected the French proposals and referred the French ambassador to the foreign board at Pekin.

"UP IN A BALLOON."

LONDON, July 4.—Two Belgian aeronauts, who ascended from Courtrai, Belgium, on Tuesday, were blown across the English channel, and have landed at Bromley.

HEAVY FAILURE.

LONDON, July 4.—Hepigram & Sons, leather factors, have failed. Their liabilities will reach £250,000.

DEATHS FROM ACCIDENTS.

LONDON, July 4.—Five deaths have occurred from the upsetting of a train of cars at Hadders, caused by the giving way of the brakes.

IRELAND.

IN HONOR OF THE FOURTH.

DUBLIN, July 5.—A national meeting was held at Belfast last night to celebrate the declaration of American independence. Sexton, Biggar and Sullivan sent letters of regret. Rev. Mr. Ryiot denounced the lord lieutenant of Ireland, whose name he said was more detested by the English people than that of Carey.

A HOPEFUL SIGN.

CORK, July 5.—The speech of Parnell, at the banquet here last evening, in connection with the industrial exhibition, was non-political. He said he believed that in the exhibition was seen a hopeful sign of a revival of Irish industries.

DECREASE OF OUTRAGES.

DUBLIN, July 5.—Judge O'Brien, addressing the grand jury at Limerick, declared the diminution of the number of outrages since the last assizes amounted to a social revolution.

GERMANY.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH OF THE KING OF SAXONY.

DRESDEN, July 5.—The king of Saxony, who is making a tour, was yesterday about to ascend in the elevator of a factory which he was inspecting at Milan, when a weight attached to the car fell, killing the governor of the district, who was accompanying his majesty, and injuring the manager of the factory. The king, who had entered the elevator before the accident happened, was much overcome, and abandoned his tour.

NO INTERVIEW.

BERLIN, July 5.—Prince Orloff, Russian ambassador to France, proceeded on his way to Paris without obtaining an interview with Bismarck, owing to a change in the latter's government.

FRANCE.

THE COUNT DE CHAMBORD.

PARIS, July 5.—Count de Chambord passed a bad night. He vomited frequently and this morning is utterly prostrated.

Advices from Frohsdorf say the papal nuncio at Vienna has visited Count de Chambord and conveyed the blessing of the pope to the dying man.

5:30 P. M.—France, in a second edition, says Count de Chambord is dead. The legitimists chiefs have received no telegram confirming the statement.

PARIS, July 6.—A telegram, received at 2 o'clock Friday morning, says Count de Chambord was informed yesterday of the arrival of the Orleans princes at Vienna. He immediately sent his secretary to see them. The doctors had another consultation, and mark a noticeable improvement in the count's condition. There is still danger, but it is not immediate. They believe the count's complaint is a gouty affection.

Paul de Cassagnac writes that if an empire is powerless, the Bonapartists should support Comte de Paris.

THE TONQUIN DIFFICULTY.

PARIS, July 5.—It is calculated that all the French troops on the way to Tonquin will have arrived by the middle of July. The wet season will prevent immediate fighting.

It is reported that Challemel Le Cour, French minister, has sent fresh directions to the minister to China in regard to the Tonquin question.

THE SUEZ CANAL COMPANY.

PARIS, July 5.—The Suez Canal Company announce that in case an agreement be made with the British government in regard to matters concerning a new canal, the son of De Lesseps will, at the request of the British minister, start for London, definitely to conclude arrangements for the prosecution of the work.

EGYPT.

THE CHOLERA.

ALEXANDRIA, July 5.—The number of deaths from cholera at Damietta, during the twenty four hours ending at 8 o'clock this morning, was 111. Forty-three deaths occurred at Mansurah.

ALEXANDRIA, July 5.—Later reports from Samanoud say that there were six deaths at that place from cholera during the twenty-four hours ending at 8 A. M. this morning. Two cases occurred among the soldiers forming the cordon around the place.

CAIRO, July 5.—A refugee arrested in the street here died in the hospital. It is suspected his death was caused by cholera. The government is preparing to build a hospital for use. Two hundred beds will be reserved for Europeans.

LONDON, July 5.—A dispatch from Berlin reports that workmen who died there are suspected of cholera.

MEXICO.

MATAMORAS NOTES.

MATAMORAS, July 5.—Cajame, chief of the Yaqui nation, was assassinated while coming from mass during a feast on the Yaqui river yesterday. It is believed that his death throws all the rich lands and mines open to white men.

At an American eating house at Saltillo yesterday a waiter named Guillermo Guitterez shot Juan Minor dead, in a quarrel about four bits.

AUSTRALIA.

THE ANNEXATION QUESTION.

BRISBANE, July 5.—The decision of the home government to repudiate the proposed annexation of New Guinea to Queensland causes discontent here. Premier McIlwraith stated in the legislative assembly that Queensland will do her utmost to effect the wishes of the colonies in the legislative assembly at Melbourne. The premier of Victoria declined to accept the decision as final.

SOUTH AMERICA.

ON THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

Over the Gap and Through to Portland—An Eastern Man's Impressions.

Mounted at a perilous altitude upon the swaying stage top, we swept noisily through the narrow streets of Helena, behind six fine horses, into the open road, which follows the valley of Ten Mile creek to the base of the mountains and crosses them through the Ten Mile pass. Unfortunately, the road as now taken by the coaches does not give the traveler an opportunity to see the Mullan pass and the tunnel, by means of which the great railway will pass through the mountains, and a brief description of the region, as seen by your correspondent several years ago, may be of interest to some of the many readers of THE OREGONIAN, who, doubtless, are contemplating the grand ride across the continent, upon the completion of the road. The great tunnel penetrates the main range in one of the most picturesque and interesting regions of the mountain land. The road, leaving the Missouri, passes through the beautiful valley of the Prickly Pear, and crossing Ten Mile creek, leads up the narrow basin of Seven Mile creek to the eastern portal of the tunnel at the head.

The old Helena trail, by which the writer crossed over the pass, skirts the base of the low-lying ranges of naked quartz and granite hills which flank the Seven Mile and ascends the mountain through a heavy growth of timber. Groves of moss-covered and patriarchal pines and spruces, and great masses of broken and scattered boulders, with here and there glimpses through the trees of a noble prospect stretching far away to the east, marks its rugged windings, and scarcely before aware of it one stands upon a small nearly level plateau at the summit. Here within twenty paces are the springs whose crystal waters are part of the headwaters of the two great river systems of the continent. Far below us, as upon a gigantic map, we may trace the silver thread of Ten Mile, Prickly Pear and Missouri rivers, winding through broad fields and meadows, or sweeping through grand canyons of the mountains in snowy torrents.

At the mouth of Last Chance lies Helena, veiled in mist and smoke, and scattered over the lovely little valley of the Prickly Pear may be seen the cottage homes of a hundred farms. Apparently close at hand, but forty miles distant, the crimson summit of Red mountain towers majestically up against the clear blue sky, its northern wall descending in a sheer perpendicular declivity of 1000 feet to the tree-clad banks of the Ten Mile. Probably no single mountain in the world contains such an enormous and varied mass of mineral-bearing ores as this, and upon its broken slopes and in its rugged chasms, gold, silver, tellurium, tin, platinum, cinnabar, galena and other metals have been found in greater or less quantities. Nearly 500 recorded leads have at one time been located upon this one peak alone. Upon the western slope an unbroken forest extends to the bottom of the Little Blackfoot, beyond which tree-clad and rocky hills blend into the sky.

The Little Blackfoot, a tributary of the Hellgate, is a beautiful and limpid mountain stream, and flows through a region picturesque and grand beyond description. It has long been a favored hunting and fishing ground, and pleasure parties from the mining towns have annually sought its quiet parks and dells for summer camping. Through this pass the Mullan road crosses, built by the government in 1857 to bring Forts Benton and Walla Walla into direct overland communication, long before gold was even suspected to exist in Montana. Not far from it is the Lewis-and-Clark pass, at the head of the Dearborn river, the point at which the famous expedition led by the two intrepid explorers, whose names it bears, crossed the snow-covered mountains more than three-quarters of a century ago. The altitude of the Mullan pass is about 5000 feet, nearly 2500 feet lower than the crossing of the U. P. railroad, and about 1200 feet lower than that of the Central Pacific railroad.

From the Little Blackfoot river the stage road winds over pine-covered hills, through cool-shaded ravines and across open, grassy plateaus, until suddenly, emerging upon the verge of a sharp descent, we see lying far below us the beautiful valley of the Deer Lodge, with its winding river gleaming mistily between verdure-clad banks and its little city of the same name resting picturesquely within one of the broad bends in a grove of cottonwoods. Deer Lodge was once called Montana's "Sleepy Hollow," but the incoming of the U. N. railroad and the approach within ten miles of the N. P. railroad, have wakened it from its lethargy, and one finds it now one of the most active towns in the territory. It is a beautiful little city, in its shaded lawns, parks and gardens, reminding one of many a Pennsylvania village, a resemblance not lessened by its rippling, limpid mountain stream which, crossed and recrossed by little rustic bridges, flows through the town. Deer Lodge is the commercial center of a considerable district of agricultural and mineral country, and is destined to enjoy a continued solid and substantial growth for some years to come. It is the county seat of Deer Lodge county and has the territorial penitentiary.

Leaving Deer Lodge we pass over a broken and hilly region, through the mines of Yamhill and Pioneer, where we have an opportunity for observing the methods of modern placer mining. These mines are largely exhausted, and the face of the country for nearly a mile square is torn up into deep unsightly fissures, by the devastating effects of hydraulic operations, making the view dreary in the extreme. Re-entering the valley, we find ourselves again on the banks of the river, which is now known as the Hellgate. The nomenclature of the river system which forms the Clark's fork of the Columbia is somewhat peculiar. First called the Deer Lodge as far as the mouth of the Little Blackfoot, the same stream is then known as the Hellgate until its junction with the Big Blackfoot, when it takes the name of the Missoula, and finally merging into the Clark's fork below the Missoula canyon.

Nowhere upon the continent is the scenery more grand and beautiful than in the canyon of the Missoula. Giant pines and spruces clothe the mountain slopes, and only an occasional naked peak of rocks breaks the mass of greenery; the river flowing swiftly between in successive rapids and eddies, with here and there a tree-clad island intercepting its broad channel. The timber supply here is almost alone inexhaustible, and for many years to come eastern Montana, at least, will draw upon the vast forests of the Missoula. Upon the completion of the road mills will be located along the river, and manufactured lumber shipped across the range, entirely superseding the lumber traffic of the east side, which in consequence of the great distance of the mills from market, will be quite unable to compete. The timber of this region consists of three distinct varieties of pine—the yellow or Norway, the black and the white pine—and spruce, fir and cedar, the yellow pine and the spruce both being of most excellent quality, and making first class lumber. Near the exit of the river from the canyon stands Missoula, the present distal terminus of the N. P. R. R., a somewhat widely scattered town of perhaps 1500 people.

The Bitter Root valley, of which Missoula is the emporium, the river from which it derives its name entering the Missoula near here, contains more of conditions essential to successful agriculture than any other part of Montana, and corn and fruits are abundantly raised throughout the greater part of its area. Bitter Root bacon and hams have a local fame, and are perhaps not inferior to the productions of Missouri and Illinois. A large portion of the best part of the valley is under cultivation, and surprising yields of cereal and vegetable crops are often reported when irrigation is employed. From Missoula we are whirled across a succession of broken and rugged hills and through a rocky canyon to a little station on the railroad, where we find a few tents occupied by employes of the road. Here we are deposited at 6 o'clock at night by our autocratic Jehu, the stage driver, though our tickets read and our fare is paid to Airlie, a station ten miles further on, and we are here left to "shift for ourselves."

Though it may be pleasant to listen to the music of these "grand old harp-strings" the pines, as they sway gently in the night breeze, and the purple shades of twilight creeping over distant mountain tops may present an entrancing picture, yet hungry stomachs and wearied muscles require less æsthetic and more substantial pabulum, and we begin the quest for supper and a bed. The first is at last obtained in a tent; the latter cannot be purchased at any price, and we proceed to make ourselves as comfortable as circumstances will permit in the empty coach.

At 1 o'clock A. M., in obedience to a telegram kindly sent by the operator from here, a special train comes from Airlie, and we joyfully clamber into the car with a sigh of relief as we think that our last mile of staging has been accomplished. Notwithstanding the fact that our fare has already been paid to the stage company to the station, Airlie, we are required to pay it again, and most of us do it without grumbling, as we find consolation in the thought that it is the last tribute to an organization of star route fame, whose days, in the trans-continental line at least are numbered, thanks to the N. P. R. R.

At Airlie, a station situated upon a beautiful and rapidly-flowing stream, we are side-tracked until the departure of the regular train to which we are to be attached in the morning, and after a tedious wait of nearly six hours, we are off in the bright sunlight of a perfect June day, down the great slope to the ocean.

Language fails dismally when one undertakes to describe the sublime scenery of the Columbia river; it is a perpetual unfolding of new beauties and new grandeurs throughout every mile of its magnificent course. Here it flows swiftly and noisily down through wild canyons in wide circling eddies and foaming rapids, then it gathers into broad lake-like basins and pursues its way with calm, unruffled surface, reproducing with mirror-like fidelity its turbid banks, and here again is divided into innumerable channels by picturesque little willow-fringed and wooded islands. Far away to the distant mountain summits on either side stretches an unbroken forest, comprising every variety of coniferous tree known to northern latitudes. Surely here is a timber supply from which the world may draw for half a century. Of farming lands there are none, but the lumbering business of the district in the future is destined to constitute an extensive industry and become a potent factor in the growth of this new region of our continent.

Throughout the day we are continually passing groups of Chinese laborers in queer straw hats, and at intervals of every ten or fifteen miles their camps appear, nests of little smoke-begrimed tents, which as evening approaches are filled with their pig-tailed occupants lolling about in every attitude of semi-nude and easy indolence, in company with herds of grunting swine. We are face to face at last with the problem of the Pacific coast, and the impressions we obtain through these rapid glimpses of the "coming man" as he appears in his unmixed purity lead us to sympathize with the people who are already grappling with what is destined to become in the very near future the greatest question of the age. Just at sunset we emerge upon the shores of Pend d'Oreille lake, and for nearly two hours closely follow its indented coast line, sometimes skirting low banks, often darting over long stretches of trestle across bays and inlets. The world contains no fairer gems of landscape and water scenery than are presented from every point of view upon this lake. As far as the eye can reach it stretches out its calm surface, here and there reflecting towering headlands, clad with stately pines and firs, whose emerald tints contrast delightfully with the deep blue of its waters. The whole is set in a frame of towering, snow-capped mountains, which, veiled in a purple haze, seem to float in the summer sky. This deep purple coloring which distinguishes the distant mountain views of the Pacific is not observed elsewhere and must be seen to be appreciated in the surpassing splendor of the charm which it lends to the landscape. It has been closely imitated by a local artist whose painting I chanced to [illegible] bit of landscape [illegible] passed.

We [illegible]

[illegible] annually unfolded to the eye; towering cliffs of fantastically carved rocks, forests of pines and groves of poplars, fern and moss clad grottoes and leaping cascades appearing in ever varying contrasts, like dissolving views in a mighty kaleidoscope.

Portland is a surprise to the traveler who, coming from St. Paul, encountering but ambitious little towns taking upon themselves the name of city, and the crude hamlets of a sparsely settled land. It is a most attractive and prosperous city, and its imposing rows of stone and iron blocks, its numerous elegant and stately homes, its superior hotels and costly public buildings, and its crowded docks filled with shipping from every part of the world, impress the stranger in an unusual degree. Portland bids fair to become the leading city of the Pacific northwest, situated as it is, with the combined advantages of direct rail and water communication with every part of the vast district of which it is the natural commercial center. Her wholesale trade will already compare most favorably with that of St. Paul, of which she is sure to become an important rival upon the completion of the Northern Pacific road.

A Good Word for Oregon.

Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

Oregon, going upon the theory that no country can get rich by the mere exportation of crude staples, is studying up the problem of the coast trade, particularly in connection with Mexico. To establish and maintain steamship communication with the southern coast there should be freight both ways, and aside from her flour, Oregon has little to offer Mexico. But there is something truly down-eastern in the vision conjured out there of Oregon-made flour and Oregon-spun flour sacks, tents and wagon covers, shipped in Oregon-built vessels; indeed the enterprise of our extreme northwestern state has led men to call it "the New England of the Pacific."

WE SHOULD HELP ONE ANOTHER.

Mr. NORMAN HUNT, of No. 189 Chestnut street, Springfield, Mass., writes April 10, 1883, saying:

"Having the affliction caused by kidney and liver diseases, and after enduring the aches, pains, weakness, and depression incident thereto until body and soul were nearly distracted, I sought for relief and a cure from my trouble, and was told by a friend who had been cured by it himself, that the best and only cure was Hunt's Remedy, and upon his recommendation I commenced taking it, and the first few dose improved my condition in a very marked manner, and a continuance of its use has justified all that my friends claimed for it—that it was a sure and permanent cure for all diseases of the kidneys and liver. Several of my friends in Springfield have used it with the most gratifying results, and I feel it my duty as well as a pleasure to me to recommend Hunt's Remedy in the highest possible terms."

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

THURSDAY, July 5.

General trade has been largely broken into by the celebration of yesterday and to-day. There are few quotations to change either as regards the produce or general merchandise markets. China rice is lower under large stocks. Matches declined to $2@2 50 per tin. Grain bags show no strength, and large lots are being received. Sugars and coffee steady.

The weather continues hot and backward. Crops in the valley are being daily more affected by the heat, but cannot be a failure. Forest fires are raging in all directions, and these add to the natural heat.

Freights steady at unchanged quotations. For the week one future charter is reported at 65s for orders October. A vessel is also taken for salmon loading at Astoria. Ships in port talk high, but uncertainty regarding crops cause shippers to hold back.

In wheat no business whatever is doing except for small lots for chicken feed. Steadily declining markets abroad have caused a lower tone in our own country.

Flour is fairly steady, with a good local business doing. Trade with the Sound has fallen off.

Wool quiet with steady sales of choice at full prices. Receipts from the eastern section show a slight falling off, the bulk of the clip having come to hand. Valley comes in slowly. Shipments are quite large. The Hulbert is taking on some for New York. As other markets show a more quiet feeling any advance must be slow.

Old potatoes in light business. A few New Oregon are in, but the market is mainly supplied by California.

Oats steady at unchanged prices. Free receipts have furnished full stocks.

Mill feed firm with local receipts light.

Dried fruits of all kinds firm at full prices.

Provisions show no weakness, as choice cuts are not plenty. In butter the market is mainly supplied by Oregon, and values show some steadiness.

Hides quiet at easy prices.

Hay weaker as receipts have increased.

Receipts past 48 hours have been: 874 bbls flour, 281 ctls wheat, 1064 ctls oats, 40,000 lbs bran, 26,500 lbs millstuff, 1423 lbs wool, 1979 lbs hides, 11 bxs butter, 5450 doz eggs, 60 bls hay, 7 bxs fruit. Also, 283,935 lbs wool, 5,186 lbs hides from the eastern section.

More Druggists Recommend Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

HARRY WILLIAMS, Greenville, Cal., says: "I take pleasure in certifying that WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY TAKES THE LEAD of all remedies for the dangerous and prevalent diseases of the Throat and Lungs, and truly it is the ONLY REMEDY of which I have heard a universal praise as to its good in many years' trial."

F. S. DICKINSON, San Leandro, Cal., writes: "We know of no article that gives greater satisfaction to those who use it, and we do not hesitate to recommend it."

HADSELL & REED, Monterey, Cal., write: "We sell a great deal of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, and find it to be a good medicine. We have just received a three-dozen lot of it."

J. B. HUGHES, Quincy, Cal., says: "It is an No. 1 Cough and Cold Cure, and I have to keep it in stock all the time."

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PHYSICIAN ON the Pacific coast in the treatment of all Chronic and Difficult Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

He will guarantee to cure any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease, if the patient follows his advice and treatment.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by a majority of the Medical Profession.

Persons afflicted by any form of sexual disease or weakness often delay in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitution becomes corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail, if they are curable, and if not, he will tell you so.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

FIGHTING FIRE.—Robert Cleghorn, superintendent of the county poor farm, came to the city yesterday with a thrilling story of the perils to which he has been exposed for the past few days. Last Sunday afternoon Mr Cleghorn, with four assistants, began fighting fire, and almost constantly since that time have they been obliged to strive with all the means in their power. To keep the flames from the county buildings Mr Cleghorn says that he had no sleep from the beginning until Thursday night, and his hands show many a burn in his contest with the fire. The danger he thinks is past, unless the wind should change. He, with his men, has saved the buildings and the hay, etc. Only about fifty cords of wood and a thousand rails were burned. This was getting off very fortunately, and Mr Cleghorn is entitled to a substantial recognition of his faithful services and untiring vigilance. Four days and nights of labor for those men without rest or sleep was a tremendous strain on their physical endurance, but they saved the county thousands of dollars' worth of valuable property.

DEATH OF THE SUICIDE.—Thos Butler, the ex-soldier from Vancouver, who cut his throat at the Burton house in this city on the afternoon of the Fourth of July, died at four o'clock yesterday morning at St Vincent's hospital. Dr Wheeler, who attended Butler, thinks the immediate cause of his death was the air entering through the wound and creating a fatal species of pneumonia. Coroner Cooke held an inquest later in the day, the verdict of the jury being that the deceased came to his death by his own hand. Little can be learned of Butler, his relatives or his antecedents. The $1600 which he possessed at the time of his death is left by will to his mother in England. Some steps should be taken at once by the county authorities to hunt her up.

CUSTER POST BAND.—Among the leading bands that took part in the celebration, Custer Post band of McMinnville was conspicuous in popular favor. Especially was this visible in the hearty encores accorded them upon their rendition of a fine overture at the pavilion on Thursday evening, in which such competent judges as the military band of Vancouver were foremost in their tokens of appreciation. Custer Post band certainly is a credit to the community to which it belongs.

CHANGE IN MESSENGER CHARGES.—Hereafter the messenger service of the Telephone company will be divided into day and night service. For day service the charge is 15 cents for a half hour or less and 25 cents for an hour. Night service, i. e. from 10 P M to 7 A M, 35 cents for a half hour or less and 50 cents an hour. It is gratifying to note the improvement in messenger service and that a boy is to be had upon call.

THE WOUNDED SOLDIER STILL ALIVE.—John King, the soldier who was stabbed by James Grosch, a comrade, at Camp Sully on the evening of the 4th inst., was not dead yesterday forenoon, contrary to the report circulated in this city. Policeman Ewing, who took over a deserter and returned last night, states that King is no worse than when first taken to Vancouver. Grosch has not yet been captured.

THE FIRST THROUGH TICKET.—The credit of having secured the first through ticket from Portland to New York belongs to August Goldsmith of Spokane Falls, who yesterday bought ticket No. 0. It was sold by Geo. S. Taylor, the genial and accommodating assistant ticket agent. Two tickets were sold to Chicago, one to Willard Lamb of Green Bay, Wisconsin, and one to M. S. Osborn of this city.

PROSPECTS OF RAIN.—Yesterday was the hottest day of the season, and the customary sea breeze was denied Portland until late in the evening. Weather bulletins at 8 P M showed that the barometer had dropped ten hundredths, and that a south wind, at the rate of six miles an hour, prevailed at Red Bluff. This gives more hope of rain than we have had for several days.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES AT THE THEATER.—Gospel services will be held in New Market theater Sunday evening, July 8, commencing at 7:45 o'clock. These sessions are held under the auspices of Calvary Presbyterian Church, are of a very interesting character and are free. Those who are not in attendance on any church service are especially invited to attend.

K. OF P. ELECTION.—J H Mismer, D D G C, installed the following officers of Mystic lodge No 2, Thursday night: S R Irvin, P C; J A. Alstead, C C; W T Hume, V C; W. W. Terry, P; W. H. Steuble, M at A; I L. Davidson, I G; Chas. Fel... Iowa, O G; W. S. Stevens, K of R and S; W. Braden, M of E; Fred. Silcock, M of F.

SUDDEN DEATH.—George Miller, who arrived here a short time since from the east, and located at Sellwood, died there on Thursday, of apoplexy. His remains were brought to this city and will be shipped to Santa Cruz, Cal., for interment, as he has relatives residing there. He leaves a wife and one son here, and another son at the east.

THE EAST SIDE.

QUARTERLY MEETING AND CONFERENCE.

The quarterly meeting of the East Portland M. E. church will occur next Sunday morning and evening. The conference will take place in the church on Monday evening.

STARK STREET FERRY PHOTOGRAPHED.

The Stark street ferry boat, which, with the Knott Bros' usual public spirit, was elaborately decorated in honor of the independence anniversary, was photographed by Davidson on the Fourth while it contained as passengers Gov. Moody, Secretary Earhart and the state officers, together with the aids in uniform, deputed to escort them to Portland from the depot. A number of the photographs, which are 12x15, will be printed, and will make a handsome memento of the occasion.

THE SAFEST ROUTE TO THE CEMETERY.

The recommendation of the street commissioner for the improvement of Sixteenth street from I to K is a good one. In view of the danger of crossing the bridge on L street, and which the property owners refuse to improve, the improvement recommended would enable teams to reach the base line or cemetery road entirely by improved streets by way of L, Fourth, I and Sixteenth. If the bridges in question are not rebuilt or otherwise made safe, they should certainly be closed and the recommendation of the street commissioner acted upon if possible.

CROPS NEVER FAIL.

Joe Ben Lane yesterday plucked several heads of fine club and white winter wheat from the sand and gravel fill supporting the railroad track between I street and the lower depot. It looks as healthy as though grown in the best soil in Oregon. The surface of this gravel bank is hot and dry for several inches deep, and how the grain received its nutriment to cause it to grow so fine and full is somewhat mysterious. Taking this fact as a criterion, there appears no reason why any crops should fail on account of the present dry spell.

WILLAMETTE BRIDGE FERRY COMPANY.

This company held its annual meeting in Portland on Monday last, when the following officers were elected: President, J B Lane; vice president, Kirk Sheldon; secretary, Dr O. H. Raffety; treasurer, Kirk Sheldon; board of directors, J B Lane, O H Raffety and Kirk Sheldon.

COMPROMISED.

The case of larceny against Ack Sing for stealing two shirts, the property of Henry Abbate, was yesterday compromised without coming to trial by the Chinaman paying $3 for the property alleged to have been stolen and $9 for costs.

W. of this city, with a number of members, visited Unity Lodge of Portland, Tuesday evening, it being the occasion of the installation of officers of both lodges. Shaver, Freeman and Thompson will lose large quantities of wood by the forest fires north of here.

Z. M. Parvin, professor of music at Willamette university, was visiting friends in this city yesterday.

I. N. Sanders, who intended this morning to send his son to his family, who are rusticating at Hot Springs near the Cascades, received a telegram last evening not to send the brute, as on account of forest fires they had had to remove camp.

A report was freely circulated here yesterday that the large new mill of Joseph DeLay, about two and one-half miles out near the Vancouver road, had been entirely consumed, together with all the lumber on hand, but investigation proved it to be a canard.

John Miller, alias Captain Jack, having slept off the effects of the celebration, appeared before the recorder yesterday morning, to foot the bill of costs. Having only one arm, the recorder took compassion on him and fined him but $10, which he paid and was released.

The committee on fire and water having let the contract for furnishing and laying pipes to connect the city hall with the water mains to Smith & Sturm, men were engaged yesterday in executing the contract. Under the franchise of the water company they are required to furnish the city water free of charge.

A HOT FIRE.

Part of a Frame Range on First Street, Near Columbia, Destroyed.

An alarm of fire at 3:30 last evening was turned in from box 6. Persons standing on Jefferson street between Front and First discovered a blaze in the rear of the second-hand store of L. Jacobs, who used a shed as a stable for his horse. Two men went over and got the horse out with some difficulty, the fire having spread rapidly. Engine No. 4 took position at the intersection of First and Jefferson streets, the hose carriage having balked and valuable time was lost by the delay. Other engines came up at this time and the hose from the ... Veto was run up to the fire. All the buildings being wooden and dried the fire spread with ... rapidity, threatening the ... and other buildings across Columbia street. The department ... their streams well directed, confining the fire to the rear of the buildings occupied by L. Jacobs, Eugene Horr, Mrs B ... and James Killen. Jacobs' roof and rear is a wreck, as is the rear of a small junk store next door and ... factory. By effective work of the department the fire was confined to the ... back walls, which materially lessens the loss. James Killen had a quantity of staves and barrel material in his yard which were burned. His shop and also the sash and door factory of I. C. Godshall was flooded by water. The Columbia Engine house also on the corner of Front and Columbia streets received damage in the same way. The carpenter shop of F. A. Davey sustained a loss of $250; no insurance. Graham's (late ...) cost about $1,000. The dwelling occupied by Mrs Boyce, who was lying sick in bed, was badly damaged. Friends of the lady desired her to consent to removal, but she insisted upon remaining, finding the danger constantly increasing. R. B. Chenalt, foreman of THE OREGONIAN press rooms, carried her down stairs and put her in a hack, which conveyed her to friends. Damage to building and contents probably $1000, mostly by water; fully insured. The buildings ... 100 feet on Columbia ... are owned by M. F. ..., but his losses are small.

Next to the dwelling at the corner of Columbia and First streets—is the Eureka beer saloon of John Evers. This escaped without any damage worthy of mention to either stock or building.

Eugene Horr, sofa and bed manufacturer, north of the saloon on First street, is damaged to the extent of $1000. To the rear of his store a small shed stood in which the work of upholstery was done. This was entirely destroyed together with the contents. The rear portion of the store was also partially burned, and his general stock more or less damaged. On the stock in the two stores $1200 ($500) insurance on the stock in the two stores ... insurance. Policies are held by the Sun Company, the Western, and a French company. The building is damaged about $400.

L. Jacobs estimates his stock at $1,500. He is insured for $1,000. His loss will probably reach $600 from fire and water. The building belongs to Asa Harker. The roof is nearly destroyed and damage to building about $400.

The fire illuminated the whole southern sky, the light mingling with overhanging smoke, and giving out the impression of a much greater fire than really existed.

Further, that one plan of raising funds to be suggested be that each lodge hold an orphan's fund entertainment.

Resolved, That Bros. J. E. Houston and Will C. King be appointed a special committee to get legal counsel, and if found expedient and proper, take steps toward incorporating the Orphans' Home association separate from the grand lodge and report at next meeting of this committee.

Resolved, That the grand secretary be authorized to purchase 200 copies of Richardson's Text Book on Alcohol, 100 copies paper, and 100 copies cloth binding. Furthermore, that he be instructed to forward copies of these works to the county school superintendents, members of the state board of education, and heads of the faculty of such colleges as his judgment dictates. Furthermore, that he be instructed when these books arrive to forward with each book a circular setting forth in memorial form the movement of our grand lodge looking to the introduction of this work into public schools. SALEM NOTES.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, July 6.

Mrs T. B. Odeneal is rusticating at McMinnville.

Miss Addie Earhart is visiting friends in Portland.

Hon and Mrs C. B. Wolverton of Albany are in the city, the guests of Dr and Mrs J. O. Byrd.

Louis Kohn, manager in this city of Goldsmith & Lowenberg's ... is taking a flying trip to Astoria.

James G. Kennie and Miss Flora A. Price of this city were married on Wednesday last, Rev. S. A. Starr officiating.

Miss Fannie Odeneal is spending her summer vacation at Yaquina bay in company with her aunt Mrs. Cauthorn of Corvallis.

The board of delegates of the Salem fire department will meet this evening for the purpose of organizing for the ensuing year.

Mr A. O. McKinnon and Mary J. McCoy of McCoy, Polk county were married at the Reed hotel in this city yesterday, Hon F. H. D'Arcy, city recorder, officiating.

At a regular meeting of Capital Engine Co. No. 1, held last evening, Allen R. Crossman resigned his position as foreman and Alonzo Gesner was elected to fill the vacancy.

A gang of convicts, in charge of John Wilson as guard, have commenced digging trenches for laying gas pipes from the main near the capitol building to the new insane asylum.

Among our Salem ladies who are visiting friends in your city are Mrs. F. R. Moores, Mrs. Peter D'Arcy, Miss Maria D'Arcy, Miss Alice Bell, Miss Constance ..., Miss Emily Heuler, Miss Nellie Reilly and others.

Two women helped take one of our fire engines to the fire on Wednesday morning last, and the foreman has been instructed by the company to present each with a fireman's shirt, in acknowledgement of their services.

The prisoner captured by Thos. Cross on Wednesday last was named John W. Darby, sent from Grant county in 1880, under sentence for life. He was almost famished when captured, but remonstrated strenuously against being returned to the prison.

His excellency the governor has recently appointed the following notaries public: F. C. Holden, Astoria; J. J. Shipley, Dayton; J. P. O. Lownsdale, Portland; Guy W. Cole, St. Helens; Artemas J. Comstock, Portland.

Dallas suffered from the effects of another extensive conflagration about 4 o'clock this morning, caused by the complete destruction of the large flouring mill owned by Messrs. Thomas Holman of this city and Robert Wilson of Dallas. The loss was about $7000, with an insurance of about $4,000.

The South Portland Street Railway Company have filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state, with William Reid, P. A. Marquam, David Goodsell, C. J. McDougall and Ira B. Sturges as incorporators, and a capital stock of $50,000, with power to increase the same to $100,000.

Seldom have we had so long a continuance of warm, dry weather, added to which is the prevalence of a perfect cloud of smoke which has overhung the city for several days, obscuring from sight at the distance of 500 yards buildings of any proportion and causing the sun to resemble a ball of fire. The roads are fearfully dusty and everything dry as tinder. Crops of all kinds need rain sadly and their abundance will be materially lessened ... it comes pretty soon, and there are no indications of it at the present time.

Among the amusing incidents attending the recent outbreak at the penitentiary was one not yet related. Mrs Collins, the wife of the first warden, when her husband was brought into the room where she was, in a wounded condition, with wifely devotion and solicitude was regretting the affair and remarked, "O, dear, I wish we had never come out here." Carrie Bradley, who is to fame not unknown, was in room at the same time engaged in some menial employment, and naively seconded the remark by saying, "Yes, and I too wish I had never come out here." It was so seriously spoken that it caused no little amusement for those who heard it.

In commenting upon efficient service rendered by the prison employes in the recent outbreak, special mention should be made of that rendered by John Patterson of this city, one of the foremen of the foundry, whose prompt comprehension of the seriousness of the affair was shown by his ordering into line and keeping in subjugation the large force of convicts employed in the foundry, and by his stern determination quelling an evident desire on their part to avail themselves of the fracas on the outside and make a break for liberty. The situation was very precarious for a few moments, but the guards were soon secure in their cells and the danger passed.

Master Ralph Moody of The Dalles is in the city, paying a visit to the governor. Prof. Thos. Condon of the State University was in the city yesterday and started for home this morning. C. J. H. Evans of Lakeview, is in the city on a flying trip. About eight couples left this city on the morning of the Fourth for Silver creek falls, where they camped over night and returned home yesterday. They report having had a pleasant time, and enjoyed the sensation of being compelled to drive through burning woods on their way home, the flames at times reaching their buggy wheels, and causing no little consternation among those of the fair sex who accompanied them.

A GRAND ARMY MAN'S WRATH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

It has pleased the Standard to assail the G. A. R. What its reasons are for so doing is not apparent to the general public, and the members of the G. A. R. can only ascribe them to a deep seated hatred of the principles held, taught and acted upon by that organization.

The G. A. R., as is well known, is composed of the survivors of the union army that crushed out the rebellion. Those armies were formed of men of all political parties—men whose patriotism was superior to their partisanship. They were in no sense political organizations, and it is difficult to see how a society the membership of which is drawn only from the survivors of a non partisan body of men, can be a political organization.

This charge is an old one, and has been given the lie so completely in the history of the G. A. R. that it is now never made save by a few old fossils whose whole sympathies have ever been, and for aught we care, ever may be with the principles of the "lost cause."

It might interest some of his patrons, if the Standard man would tell them where he was found during the years of the war. Was he attending some peace convention that pronounced the war for the union a failure, or did he publish, at some obscure cross roads, a petty little paper that assailed our successful generals as "butchers" and the union soldiers as mercenary hirelings? The members of the G. A. R. understand and explain this wanton assault only through such conditions as these.

He spoke of "the rusty so called uniforms" of a military company, composed wholly of old soldiers and members of the G. A. R. in a contemptuous manner, yet that company forms an integral part of the organized state militia and is liable to be called out at any time to protect the life and property of this profound observer of political organizations. Twenty years ago many of these men in rusty uniforms indeed, were found in the dust covered ranks at Gettysburg, while others of them scaled the heights of Vicksburg and made it possible for the Mississippi to run unvexed to the sea.

A loyal people thanked heaven for the grand victories, nor once thought to sneer at the "rusty so-called uniforms" of the men who won them. We believe the members of the veteran guards are satisfied with their uniforms, and since the Standard has not been called upon to pay for them, it, too, should be satisfied.

We can stand such attacks. Whether the Standard can afford to make them is a question for itself to decide. It must stand convicted of innate hatred to the G. A. R. and all that organization represents, or else acknowledge that its effusion of the 5th was

"Begotten without thought, born without pains,
The sickly driver of rheumatic brains."

WASHINGTON.

Chief Moses Agrees to Leave his Reservation if Paid.

AN IMPORTANT WITNESS MURDERED IN TEXAS.

General Crook Arrived at Washington and Holds a Conference with the President and Secretary Lincoln—Etc.

Crook's Progress at Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—[Special.]—Gen. Crook said to-night that he was not at liberty to speak of the several interviews he had with the president and secretary, but hoped to make such progress to-morrow as would enable him to leave Washington for the west to-morrow night. In reply to a question whether he thought his recommendations relative to what should be done with the captured Apaches would be adopted by the government, he replied: "Well I would rather not speak of that question. Now, I will say however, that no conclusion was arrived at to-day; but I am to have another interview with the secretary to-morrow, when perhaps it may be settled one or another."

After leaving the interior department Secretary Lincoln and General Crook proceeded to the executive mansion, where they met the president. The situation at San Carlos was brought into discussion, and a disposition to avoid a speedy conclusion was shown. No plan was definitely agreed upon. In answer to an inquiry from a reporter, Secretary Lincoln said there was no probability of a disagreement between the war and interior departments upon this question. "The heads of the departments do not disagree," said he, "when they are striving for the common object of a peaceful solution of an Indian question of this kind." The secretary thought the plan would be decided upon within a day or two.

The Indian Question.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Secretary Lincoln, accompanied by General Crook, called at the department this afternoon and held a long conference with Secretary Teller, in regard to the disposition of the Apache captives. At the conclusion of the conference, Secretary Teller informed representatives of the associated press that he had declined to receive the captives on San Carlos reservation and that a proposition was made to turn them over to the war department. Indian police, council the reservation and Teller holds that the department is responsible only for financial matters pertaining to the agency. After discussing this proposition, it was decided to leave the matter for the present. Another conference will be held for the purpose of deciding the Apaches' disposition.

General Crook was present at a cabinet meeting to-day, from which is inferred that the Indian question was under consideration.

Chief Moses Agrees to Leave his Reservation.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—As a result of a conference with Secretary Teller to-day Chief Moses agrees to surrender his reservation in Washington territory and settle with his people on the Colville reservation adjoining. Chief Thomasket, who represents the Indians now on the Colville reservation, was present at the conference, and agreed to receive Moses and his people. Chief Thomasket requested Secretary Teller to erect upon Colville reservation a sawmill, gristmill and school house, and furnish a physician for the Indians. Chief Moses gave notice that he would expect compensation for relinquishing the reservation. It is expected that an agreement between the government and Chief Moses will result in throwing open for settlement 2,50[illegible],000 of acres.

The Naval Cadet Question.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Cadet engineers of the class of 1881, who had been notified of their dismissal from the navy under the provisions of the act of August, 1882, have refused to accept their discharge with the year's pay [illegible] with it. It will be remembered that the court of claims decided that this act had no application whatever to these young men, while the secretary of the navy decided directly to the contrary. In a communication addressed to the department, the cadets say that they feel bound to respect the decision of the court, and believe their discharge without authority of law and null and void. They will, therefore, continue to report for duty from time to time, and sue for their pay accounts.

An Important Witness Murdered.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The attorney general has received a telegram from Edward Guthridge, United States attorney, dated Mineola, Texas, saying Charles Vaughn, late county judge of Marion county, Texas, and principal witness in the Marion county election cases, was murdered the 3d inst., as supposed, by parties indicted in the United States court. The attorney general instructed Guthridge to examine the case fully and report fully upon the circumstances of the murder.

The President's Trip to the Yellowstone.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—[Special.]—The president expects to leave here the latter part of the present month for Yellowstone park. He will be accompanied by Sheridan, Drum and two or three personal friends. It is expected he will make short stops en route to the Yellowstone park, and on the return.

Arthur, Lincoln and Crook.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The president returned from New York last night on a late train and went directly to the Soldiers' home, where Secretary Lincoln and General Crook are now in consultation with him concerning the disposition to be made of the captured Apaches.

Sunstroke in New York.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Cases of sunstrokes and prostration to-day, twenty-six; three fatal. Albert Daggett, the anti-Grant leader in Brooklyn, was prostrated by heat in that city. Three physicians attend him. His condition is critical.

Where to Address Stamps.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—All check stamps forwarded for redemption, and all correspondence relating thereto, should be addressed to the commissioner of internal revenue.

CRIMINAL.

ITALIAN [illegible] ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Pietro Euardo Martingo, clerk in the Banco [illegible] Alpina at Turin, Italy, who embezzled 300,000 livres and fled to this country, had been arrested here. He tells in his story that he was induced to steal money by Carlos Zeelogia, a government officer. Zeelogia was depositor in the bank on which he held the position of confidential clerk. By Zeelogia's representation that a fortune for them both could be made in certain speculation, he was induced to permit him to overdraw his account to the extent of 300,000 livres. The deficiency had been concealed meanwhile, by false entries. When further concealment became impossible, he begged his tempter to refund the money. He promised to do so, but instead fled to Greece, where he was beyond reach or execution of the laws. Martingo then intended to confess the whole matter to the officers of the bank, but his family advised him to seek safety in flight. He went to England, where he took passage for this country. Martingo consents to waive all formalities and return to Italy to-morrow.

A MURDERER LYNCHED.

CAIRO, Ill., July 6.—Wilson Howard, who killed John Kain on an excursion train at Mound City, was taken from the Pulaski county jail at Mound City by thirty men, all masked, and dragged fifty yards and suspended to the limb of a tree. He was shot two or three times before being hanged and was dead when hung up. The body, entirely naked, was left hanging. It is not known where the mob came from. Some say they came by rail from Cairo. The mob broke into a Wabash tool house and took a heavy spike and hammer. As they gathered around the jail the prisoner set up a fearful howl. The crowd rushed in and made the constable and the deputy sheriff prisoners, while others covered Mr. Painter with revolvers, demanding the keys of the jail. He said the sheriff had the keys. The jail door was then broken in and Howard was taken out. He fought desperately, but it was of no avail. Howard bore a bad reputation, while Kain was generally esteemed.

REARRESTED AFTER TWELVE YEARS.

CHICAGO, July 6.—A special dispatch reports the arrest at Downer's lake, Minn., of John Reed, who twelve years ago shot and killed Jean McCormick, a young girl, at Dashbona, Ills., owing to her refusal to marry him. The murder was peculiarly atrocious, and Reed at the time was threatened with lynch law. While lying in jail awaiting trial he managed to make his escape, and his whereabouts until now were unknown.

He made no confession, but delivered a speech of twenty minutes, during which he took big drinks of whisky, his religious adviser taking the bottle from him once. The rope was knotted in a bungling way, and after the fall Brewster writhed and twitched terribly. Then the rope slipped and he was hauled from the trap and upon the platform. The rope was replaced and the man was then rehung. After being cut down the body was placed in a redwood coffin and given in charge of the attending Catholic priest. Over 800 were present.

The Murderer of Glenn.

COLUSA, CAL., July 5.—Since the close of the Miller trial the county jail has been turned into a miniature arsenal, and has been carefully guarded by the sheriff and his deputies. Public feeling has run high, and there has been strong talk of attempts at lynching Miller. On Tuesday the superior judge made an order to remove the prisoner to different quarters, and during Tuesday night the sheriff quietly took him to Sacramento. It is said that a party of 200 men has been organized in the vicinity of Jacinto, to take the law in their own hands. The sheriff feared he could not raise a force sufficient to withstand a mob, with the present high feeling.

OUTSIDE CELEBRATIONS.

AT NEWPORT.

The settlers around Yaquina bay united in celebrating the Fourth at Newport, Col. Van Cleve, collector of the port, officiated as president of the day. The celebration was held in a beautiful grove between Newport and the ocean.

Hon. R. S. Strahan of Albany delivered a masterly address and was followed by Mrs. A. S. Duniway of Portland, who made an eloquent, logical and acceptable speech in advocacy of enfranchisement of women, choosing for her text the Declaration of Independence and holding the large assembly in rapt attention for nearly an hour. A basket dinner, rowing and yachting races on the bay, a parade of the plug uglies and the usual foot and sack races occupied the remainder of the day, followed by fireworks and a dance at night.

The weather was faultless and the occasion will be long remembered because of its many pleasing associations. G.

AT AINSWORTH.

Being a stranger here I was agreeably surprised at the enthusiasm displayed by the residents of this place in their celebration of the glorious Fourth. I was awakened at sunrise by a salute of thirty-seven guns. The supply of powder must have been plentiful, as there was a continual cannonading kept up during the entire day and evening. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the procession formed on Front street, headed by Hill's brass band, E. S. Peck leader, and after parading the principal streets marched to the hall where the literary exercises took place. The programme opened by the band playing "America," after which W. J. Kennell read the Declaration of Independence, which was followed by the band playing "Hail Columbia;" then Dr. Cantonwine, the orator of the day, was introduced, who entertained the large audience for an hour in a most masterly and patriotic address. After which A. J. Markey sang the "Star Spangled Banner" in a most artistic manner, assisted by Mr. Hill's comedy company, and several volunteers, making up a chorus of twenty-five voices. The singing created the utmost enthusiasm, the highly pleased audience dispersing, one and all agreeing that it was one of the most enthusiastic and patriotic celebrations that ever took place in Ainsworth. In the evening there was a magnificent display of fireworks, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the younger portion of the population.

ORION.

AT FIFTEEN-MILE CREEK.

The Fourth was celebrated in the good old way on Fifteen-Mile creek in Wasco county. The farmers and their wives and children gathered to the number of two or three hundred in a grove on the bank of the creek and had the usual programme of reading the Declaration of Independence, an oration and singing, after which, a dinner on the old-fashioned long table. The celebration was greatly enjoyed. John Barneth was the reader, and Pierce Mays of The Dalles the orator. The exercises were varied with patriotic songs by an excellent glee club composed entirely of people living in the vicinity. After dinner speeches were made by George Watkins, J. H. Bird and W. Lair Hill, and the festivities of the day were followed by a ball at Dufur.

AT SPOKANE FALLS.

The fourth was celebrated to-day at Spokane Falls in grand style. The city was gaily decorated with flags, evergreen and bunting of every description. The people from the country and towns for a hundred miles around began to arrive the evening preceding, and special trains brought delegations from both directions along the railroad. The procession formed on Howard street at ten o'clock and marched to a beautiful location just below the falls where a stand and seats for the assembled thousands had been prepared. The glee club and cornet band furnished good music. E. B. Webster read the Declaration of Independence. The oration was delivered by Col. C. H. Bradshaw, the orator of the day, and was one of the finest that the people of this country have ever had the pleasure of listening to. The afternoon was given up to sports of every description, principally horse racing. This evening there is a grand display of fireworks.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE DALLES.

[FROM THE OREGONIAN'S LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.]

THE DALLES, July 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen and family have gone to Yakima for a summer trip.

Thomas Johnson of Ellensburg, W. T., the founder of Goldendale, was in town yesterday.

Recorder Hodson has taken a trip to Portland, and the hard cases are heard by Hon. Geo. A. Liebe, manager.

Courtright & Hawkins' minstrels will have a good house this evening from the appearance of the box sheet.

Yesterday afternoon an inebriated white man undertook to wipe up the sidewalk with a Mongolian on Front street. What was the Irishman's surprise to find himself the wiped in the hands of the Chinaman. Both will have a hearing this morning.

Our new marshal, G. F. Beers, is everlastingly going for the drunks and high rollers. He scooped in several yesterday who were celebrating the 5th of July instead of the 4th. He has his sleeves rolled up this morning and his eye pealed for malefactors. By evening his boarding house will overflow.

Daniel Rowland has been missing from his home, in Rockland, W. T., since last Sunday evening. His boat was found tied back of the Umatilla house, Monday morning. Mr. Rowland is a man of steady habits, and the cause of his disappearance is hard to conjecture. His affairs are in good shape, so he had no reason to make away with himself or leave the country on account of financial embarrassment. His family is a beautiful one and he has always been happy in his domestic relations.

Yesterday two drunken Indians were enjoying themselves over pipes and a bottle of whisky under Z. F. Moody's warehouse. Ike Lawrence informed the marshal, who had quite a tussle getting them up to limbo. Ike is highly elated with his share in the performance, and proposes turning himself into an amateur detective to find out who sold the liquor to the noble red men. The Indians were tried before Judge Calhoun this morning and sentenced to a dark cell, with bread and water diet, for a term corresponding with three ounces on the subject of who furnished the "fire water."

The people of The Dalles are proud of their patriotism. There is not a city in the United States where so little attention is paid to the nation's holiday as in The Dalles. The streets were full of Indians on the glorious—other rise the town came near being a deserted village. Our brass band played in Albany, and our prominent men elocuted variously in suburban towns. Those who stayed at home closed their shops, for a wonder, and slept in their front yards. A few rockets were let off in the evening, but as a general thing the plain, common, ordinary Sunday beats the Fourth of July at The Dalles all hollow.

Clipper Freights.

NEW YORK, July 6.—[Special.]—There is very little doing in freights via Cape Horn and the market in common with all other branches of trade, is very quiet. The E. F. Sawyer is the leading vessel and has been so for ten days. The Lansdown also has nearly all her cargo engaged and will get away about the 15th. Rates are barely steady, being just taken at from $6@7 per ton and in one or two instances lower, but $7 is about the basis. Tonnage is not very plenty, still the demand is not urgent, although both lines, are in want of a ship at reasonable figures. Overland freights are very quiet, as this is one of the dullest weeks of the year. Shipments include 440 packages tobacco, 400 cases milk, 23 bag nuts, 60 cases castile soap, 360 cases oil, 200 cases canned goods, 165 cases champagne, 750 kegs nails, 50 cases cereals, 120 cases baking powder, 250 cases petroleum, 650 packages gun powder, the sunset route getting fully 50 per cent; 50 barrels currants, 20 cases nuts, 175 boxes pepper sauce, 50 cases sardines, 50 cases canned goods, a lot of iron and a large line of dry goods.

NEW YORK, July 6.—[Special.]—The clipper freights market is very quiet and ships load slowly. The Tam O'Shanter sailed the 30th with 1670 tons, the cargo consisting in part 901 boxes maple syrup, 160 cases champagne, 250 kegs sherry wine, 713 packages mustard, 183 barrels whisky, 73 barrels rum, 200 cases turpentine, 1560 cases oil, 400 cases naptha, 40 packages dry goods, 60 barrels sugar, 500 barrels kerosene, 330 barrels plaster, 250 kegs nails, 200 tons coal, 200 tons muck iron, 600 tons steel rails. Rates are about steady on a basis of $7 per ton. Tonnage is in fair supply, but there are no new engagements in this trade.

"Six boxes of Dr. Benson's Celery and Camomile Pills cured a friend of neuralgia, whom the Drs. here couldn't help. I'll send for some for myself." Clifford Stand, Windsor, Nova Scotia.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

FRIDAY, July 6.

A light rain at Astoria to-day with a west wind leads to the hope that the rain will reach into the valley to-morrow. To-day the heat and smoke is exceedingly disagreeable.

Foreign advices to-day show a weak tone, with not enough business doing to furnish a real quotation. It would be hard to say how long the present decline will continue. As the outlook for wheat is so poor, shippers are doing nothing with freights. At San Francisco the same rates are asked for July and December loading.

Wool is being neglected at present and buyers are not offering fair prices. A good lot of Polk county was on the market to-day and received an offer of 18 cents. Advices are not so firm in tone as for last week.

Eggs in large stock with sales at 20c. Without some unexpected influence values will drop to 20 cents next week.

Pickles have advanced 25 cents per keg and 2½ cents per gallon in barrels. Cases have also advanced.

China rice moves off well, but the 44,000 mats so close at hand is proving a weakening influence.

The Hulbert took on about 78,000 lbs wool.

Receipts for the past twenty-four hours have been 74 ctls wheat, 304 bbls flour, 1322 ctls oats, 3044 lbs wool, 700 lbs hides, 19 bxs butter, 741 doz eggs. Also 32,625 lbs wool from the eastern section.

The British bark Ullock takes out 32,850 cs salmon and 1504 bbls flour, valued at $179,432. She goes to Liverpool.

The British bark Antoinette, now thirty-four days out from Hongkong, brings 43,997 mats rice, 4 pkgs stone, 6878 pkgs mdse.

Shipments of salmon per steamer Oregon were as follows: W. Hume, 326; Warren (Cathlamet), 500; J. Williams, 350; J. Quinn, 350; Thomas & Knowles, 400; F. M. Warren, 500. Total, 2825 cases.

Shipments of salmon per Ullock for Liverpool are as follows: Aberdeen Packing Company, 5000; West Coast, 2000; Occidental, 2000; Booth & Co., 3500; Megler & Co., 2050; Hawthorn & Co., 3000; Cutting and Packing Company, 1100; George T. Myers, 2000; Thistle brand, 1800; Pillar Rock, 2000; J. West, 5400; Devlin & Co., 3350. Total, 32,850 cases.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The C. S. Hurlbert dropped down river to-day, and will take on salmon at different canneries.

The Fulda has arrived at Sligo, and the James Livesey at Shields to discharge.

The Lanarkshire is reported as arrived at Queenstown Wednesday. The previous report of her sailing for Greenock must have been an error.

The Ullock left for sea just before noon to-day.

The Br. wooden bark Antoinette comes to Allen & Lewis from Hong Kong. She registers 1014 tons, but brings but 700 tons cargo. She was formerly a Swedish vessel, but was sold to English parties while ashore near Manila, to which port she was bound from Newcastle, Australia. During a typhoon of October 20, last, several vessels were driven ashore, among them the Antoinette. She was built at Skelleftea in 1876.

Negotiations have been pending for the charter of the Belle of Oregon for a cargo to this port from Hongkong, but to-day it is said they are off, and that she will doubtless load at Manila for New York.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PHYSICIAN ON the Pacific coast in the treatment of all Chronic and Difficult Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

He will guarantee to cure any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease, if the patient follows his advice and treatment.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by a majority of the Medical Profession.

Persons affected by any form of sexual disease or weakness often delay in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitution becomes corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail, if they are curable, and if not, he will tell you so.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for reply.

Office—Nos. 132 and 134 Third street, corner of Alder, opposite Masonic Hall.

Office Hours—9 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

All letters of a professional business must be addressed to Dr. Paul M. Brenan & Co., Portland, Or.

Swift's Specific has been the means of bringing health and happiness to thousands who were pronounced incurable of Blood and Skin Diseases.

HEAR THE WITNESSES:

Saved from a Horrible Death.

Up to May last I had spent at least five hundred dollars for treatment by many of the best medical men, without any benefit. I suffered excruciatingly, and all my best friends advised me that the icy hand of death was fast approaching. I caught at S. S. S. like a drowning man at a straw. After taking two bottles I could feel a change for the better. The sores began to discharge freely and the Rheumatism to abate. When I had taken six bottles every sore had healed and my skin began to assume a natural appearance. I persisted until I had taken twelve bottles, large size, and THERE IS NOT A SYMPTOM OF THE DISEASE REMAINING, and I feel as well as I ever did. I have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh, and my friends wonder at my improved condition. I have recommended it to many, and in every instance with complete success. I believe that S. S. S. has saved me from a horrible death. C. H. SMILEY, Quincy, Ill.

I am sure that Swift's Specific saved my life. I was terribly poisoned with Malaria, and was given up to die. Swift's Specific relieved me promptly and entirely. I think it is the greatest remedy of the age. C. G. SPENCER, Supt Gas Works, Rome, Ga.

$1,000 REWARD

Will be paid to any Chemist who will find, on the analysis of one hundred bottles S. S. S., one particle of mercury, iodide potassium, or any mineral substance.
